VOL. XXV BELLEFONTE, PA., THURSDAY MORNING. FEBRUARY 22, 1894. NO 8

WASHINGTON LETTER.

Washington, Feb. 19, 1893.
From Our Regular Correspondent.

Mr. Cleveland has been howling mad ever since Peckham was rejected, and he is just as mad with the cuckoo democrats who voted for confirmation as he is with the democrats who voted for rejection. He is mad with the cuckoos because he charges them with having deceived him up to the time the vote was taken by claiming to have the pledges of a majority of the Senators to vote for confirmation. His first move after Peckham's defeat was to attempt to prevent any amendment favored by any one of the fifteen democratic Senators who voted against Peckham being included in the amended tariff bill, but inasmuch as two out of the three members of the sub-committee—Jones of Ark. and Vest—voted against Peckham he did not meet with much success in that project. what his next step will be is somewhat doubtful, but even the cuckoos do not expect it to be anything calculated to heal the gasping democratic wounds left by the rejection of Horn-blower and Peckham. Nothing would be easier than for him to nominate a democrat to the Supreme Court vacancy who would be at once confirmed without a single adverse vote, but he prefers to drag his personal fights into the Senate in his effort to humiliate Hill. So far the humiliation has bee his own and he neither deserves nor gets any sympathy.

There is a tariff fight going on among the democratic Senators that is quite as bitter as that between the Cleveland and Hill men, although there is more effort made to keep it secret. It was this fight which prevented the tariff bill being reported to the Finance committee last week. A week ago members of the sub-committee stated that the bill was ready to be reported. The reason it was reported was the concerted demand of a number of democratic Senators for additional amendments giving certain industries in their states protection. The fight got so warm at one time that the sub-committee informed those Senators that it would report the bill just as it came from the House and they could support it or not just as they pleased. Of course it is we generally a bluff against a bluff. Senator Vorhees has told the republican members of the Senate Finance committee that the bill will be reported to the committee at its regular meeting, tomorrow; but it is not at all certain that it will be. Democratic Senators are beginning to express doubts among themselves as to their ability to so patch up the bill that it will receive the votes of all the democrats in the Senate.

Sen. Morgan has completed a report on the Hawaiian investigation made by a sub-committee of the Senate committee on Foreign Relations. but it will not be made public until the full committee has acted upon it. It has been read to the sub-committee and the republican members there of informed Mr. Morgan that if he would make certain changes in the report they would sign it. It is understood that the tone of the report is antagonistic to the restoration policy of Mr. Cleveland. Mr. Bland has not yet succeeded in getting his bill for the coinage of the seignorage passed by the House, owing to the refusal of those opposed to vote to make a quorum, but he will probably have a quorum of the friends of the bill on hand early this week and the bill will then be passed. For many years the woman's Suffrage Association has held its annual conventions in Washington but at the one just closed it was decided to hold the 1895 convention at Atlanta, Ga. The southern members of Congress appear to regard this decision as a joke. Secretary Morton got a little roasting on account of a letter written last August saying that the Russian thistle was a blessing, at a hearing before the House committee on Agriculture in favor of the bill providing for the extermination of the weed. Governor Shortridge, of North Dakota, one of the principle speakers, dismissed Morton's letter by calling it rot, but Representative Sibley, of Pa., a democrat, declared that the letter demonstrated Morton's ignorance of agricultural matters and his unfitness to beat the head of the Agricultural department. Senator Lodge, of Massachusetts, who cast one of the 24 republican votes that made the rejection of Peckham's nomination to the Supreme Court a humiliating defeat for Mr. Cleveland, says of his reason for so voting: There were a large number of protests against Mr Peckham's confirmation and a great dea of serious testimony as to his not possessing the proper judicial temper, of which his dispatch to Judge caldwell repudiating in violent language an order of the Court was an unfortunate example. But that which weighed most against him with me was the manner in which patronage appeared to be used by the administration in the attempt to secure votes for his confirmation, joined with the exertion apparently of every sort of influence of which the head of the government was capable. I cannot conceive of anything worse or more demoralizing than to have confirmation to office secured by appointments to other offices or by threats of removal. Against such methods I propose always to protest and vote, in accordance with my conception of a plain public duty.

A LANDSLIDE TO GROW.

Pennsylvania Voters Register Their Opinion of the Wilson Bill.

Philadelphia, Pa., February 20.—The election in this state to-day was for a congressman at-large to serve the unexpired term in the present congress of General William Lilly, republican who died December 1, 1893. The weather was fair and a large vote was brought out. The candidates were: republican, Galusha A Grow; democrat, James Denton Hancock; Pennsylvania democracy, Arthur D Markley; people's, Victor A Lotier; prohibition, Henry F. Morrow. Mr. Grow was a member of the national house of representatives from the Thirty-second to the Thirty seventh congress inclusive and was chosen speaker of the Thirty-seventh congress.

After the adjournment of the regular democratic state convention, which nominated Hancock, the anti-Hamlin and anti Pattison democrats claimed that the convention was irregular and illegal, and they placed Markley's name as congressman at large under the title of the "Pennsylvania democracy." Recently efforts have been made through the mediation of Mr William M Singerly to harmonize the two democratic factions. On Friday last as the result of a conference between Mr Singerly and the leaders of the Pennsylvania democracy the latter announced the withdrawal of their candidate, Mr Markley. The ballots with Mr. Markley's name included had been distributed, however, before the agreement of compromise was consummated and all the candidates as named above appeared on them.

Returns from fifty-eight counties, including Philadelphia and Allegheny, show a plurality for Grow of 145,230. The remaining counties, Beaver, Butler, Clarion, Forest, Greene, Indiana, Jefferson, Lawrence and Northumberland, will increase this plurality to over 150,000.

The total vote of Philadelphia city for congressman-at large is: Grow, republican, 117,286; Hancock, democrat, 58,346 Markley, Pennsylvania democracy, 1,212; Morrow, prohibition, 706; Lotier, populist, 203.

SOME IMPORTANT LAW.

The York Gazette says: The result of the trial of the case of Worley vs. the township of Dover, York county, in which the plaintiff recovered on Saturday a verdict of $1,000, should be an admonition to township supervisors to take precaution against like accidents in their districts. Mr. Worley a year or so ago was driving over a small bridge in Dover township, only three feet high, when a carriage from the rear collided with his own, which caused it to overturn and fall from the bridge, throwing Mr. Worley out and breaking his neck. If the bridge had a guard rail the carriage would not have fallen over it. It was the absence of a guard rail that made the township liable in damages in $1,600 to Mr. Worley's widow.

The law requires guard rails on bridges and guards or barriers on all precipices along public roads for the protection of the traveling public; and where the erection of such guards or barriers requires more expense than it is reasonable the township should bear, the court on the representation of the supervisors or on petition of any of the inhabitants of the township, orders a view in the manner now provided in case of roads, and if on the report of viewers, it shall appear to the court the grand jurors and the commissioners of the county that such guards or barriers are necessary and not too expensive for such township, the same shall be erected and maintained as county bridges are now erected.

M'KANE'S CO-CONSPIRATORS.

Brooklyn, Feb. 20.—Twenty-four officials who figured with John Y. McKane at the last election, were taken to the Court of Oyer and Terminer, Brooklyn, this morning to plead to the various indictments which have been found against them by the grand jury.

Judge William J. Gaynor occupied the bench. He refused to allow the men to plead. He said he would not try the cases as he was interested in them before the election, and he did not think it would be proper for him to hear the pleas of the men. He advised the lawyers to go before Justice Cullen, who was sitting in an opposite court room. Justice Cullen, however, also refused to hear the pleas and adjourned the hearing until Friday next.

—All members of the Board of Trade can get their dinners at the Gregg Post rooms and go from their direct to the station. Dinner will be served promptly at 12 o'clock, and the train starts at 1 p. m.

DIGGING AWAY.

Still at Work Trying to Reach the Entombed Miners.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Feb. 18,—A visit to the scene of the mine horror at Plymouth to-day by the United Press representative disclosed the fact that there has been no cessation of effort on behalf of the rescuers who are digging for the entombed miners. Being Sunday, the vicinity of the mine was crowded. Thousands of people from nearly every mining town in the valley had come to look at the scene of the disaster. Many of them were employed in the various collieries hereabouts, and the general opinion among the most experienced was that the thirteen victims would never be rescued alive.

A wild hope was born in the breasts of the victims' friends last night when word came that a supply of blankets had been ordered to the shaft, but it soon died out upon investigation. The order was given merely as a precautionary measure, in case the rescuers should come upon the doomed men unexpectedly. All day today the rescuers worked ceaselessly, gang succeeding gang at intervals. The task is not only hard and dangerous, but positively discouraging. No sooner do the men gain twenty feet or so, than the top settles down again and they are compelled to retreat. In this way only a few feet at a time can be gained, and little progress is apparent to the casual observer. The rescuing party have already had many close calls, and the prediction is freely made by old miners that more lives will be sacrificed before the victims are reached.

Although the air is filled with rumors of every description, the simple fact is that no one, not even the officials know when the men will be reached. The work of tunneling through the fall is of such a nature that no calculations can be made. Were the rescuers driving through solid coal or rock the exact hour when they would reach a given point could easily be ascertained, but with a mass of loose coal in front of them, and a roof which threatens at any moment to crash down upon and bury them out of sight forever, the rescuers find it hard to foretell the result with any degree of confidence.

Meanwhile the suspense is something awful, especially among the friends and relatives of the victims, many of whom haunt the mouth of the shaft from morning until night, hoping against hope that every man who comes up may bear to their sorrowing hearts the glad tidings of rescue.

MORE ABOUT THE K. OF L.

Philadelphia, Februarv 18—A. W. Wright, ex-member of the general executive board of the Knights of Labor, was seen to day and questioned in regard to the circular which General Secretary Hays has issued to the order concerning the suits for salary which have been entered by the ex-general officers. Mr. Wright said that it was true that Mr. Powderly, Mr. Devlin and himself had entered suits as stated, but if any harm were done by giving publicity to the fact, the blame must be borne by Mr. Hayes, who had for some purpose of his own, chosen to make it public. The pretense that he and Messrs. Powderly and Devlin were pressing for the money due them for the purpose of injuring the order was untrue. Mr. Wright said, as he believes it to be perfectly solvent and able to pay the claims. Mr. Wright said some severe things about Mr. Hayes and in concluding the interview said that the talk about manufacturers backing the ex-general officers was simply nonsensical, as was also the stuff about trying to lead the knights into any political campaign. "Such nonsense," he said, "arise either from natural stupidity or is due to a chronic tendency to untruthfulness." There may be people who believe that workingmen can be herded into political camps by leaders, as I know there are those who have attempted it, but neither Mr. Powderly, Mr. Devlin nor I belong to the class who believe this.

FOR ROBBING A POST OFFICE.

In the United States District Court Friday, says the Philadelphia Times, Judge Butler granted a warrant of removal to take George Durham, Joseph Harr and John Harrington from Harrisburg to Pittsburg, where they are to be tried on the charge of breaking into and robbing the post office at Mill Creek, Huntingdon county, one night last month. In the papers presented it was stated that $100 worth of stamps and $69 in cash were taken. The men were originally brought before Commissioner Wolf at Harrisburg, who held them to appear in the Western district. As Harrisburg is in this district the warrant of removal had to be obtained in this city.

WILL BUILD A HOME.

It is now announced that Mr. Archie Allison has purchased a forty-two feet lot off the property of Mr. J. Fearon Mann, next to the residence of Mr. E. C. Humes, on Allegheny street, and that as soon as the spring weather opens sufficient to permit building operations, he will commence work on the erection of a handsome house. This is a most desirable location and will make one of the pleasantest homes in Bellefonte.

A MEAN STREAK.

The jealousies of men toward those engaged in the same kind of work are often made evident. So many people are disposed to take honors bestowed on others as indignities heaped upon themselves. Praise of others is taken as dispraise of them. The meanest things in our world are its envies and jealousies. Their common table fare is reputations roasted, reputations fried, reputations scalloped, reputations canned. The wall of a home, the communion table of a church, the slab of a graveyard, are no defense. Ministers pursuing ministers, lawyers pursuing lawyers, doctors pursuing doctors, merchants pursuing merchants, Arctic explorers pursuing Arctic explorers. How seldom it is you find men in an occupation or profession speaking well of others in the same occupation or profession. When we find exceptions to the rule, as we often do, how refreshing to the head and heart. Surely the world is large enough for all, and if we find in our souls anything like this despicable passion of which I speak, let us turn against it our indignation, and ask Almighty God to help us crush cobra. It used to seem to me that Solomon had got the wrong word and needed a milder substantive than the one he employed when he said in his proverbs, "Jealousy is the rage of a man." As I have seen the battle of life go on and hundreds of men and women persecuted and driven to the wall, and belied merely because they had more virtue or more brain, or more beauty, or more success than others, the attack more and more virulent and persistent and vehement as the years go on, the dagger struck at them between the iron wicket of the sepulchre even after they had gone down into their winding sheets, and showed it months and years after their decease, I have said, "Solomon was right." Had he chosen a softer word he would have chosen the wrong word: "Jealousy is the rage of a man"—Christian Herald.

A TERRIBLE TRAGEDY.

Waverly, N. Y., February 18.—A terrible tragedy occurred at Sayle, Pa., at about 12.30 a. m. to-day. It grew out of the Lehigh strike of November last. At the hour named several men were sitting in the bar room of the Brundag house, when three "scab" workmen entered and asked for drinks, which were furnished them by the proprietor, William Barret. Among the men sitting in the room were Bat Golden and Harry Hass. Golden made a remark concerning "scabs," when one of the newcomers, Edward Fallinger, said that he could whip any man who called them "scabs." He at once drew a revolver and levelled it at Haas. A scuffle ensued. The men clinched and fell, and Fallinger, partly rising, shot Hass, the ball entering his left eye, killing him instantly. Fallinger and Charles Waters were at once arrested and locked up. The third man escaped and is still at large. Fallinger was taken secretly in a cutter to Athens, where he was put on the train for fear of interference.

Fallinger came to Sayre from the Chicago, Burlington and Quincy railroad and was employed as a flagman. His victim, Harry Haas, was a fireman, but had not been put to work since the strike. He was very popular with his associates and the feeling against Fallinger and all "scabs" is intense. Fallinger when arrested admitted the shooting and claimed that it was done in self defense.

THURSDAY'S ATTRACTIONS.

Thursday is Washington's birthday and, as is customary Gregg Post, assisted by the kind hearted ladies of the town, will on that day serve a turkey dinner in their rooms on High street. Every person who has even partaken of one of these dinners knows full well that no finer was ever served in Bellefonte; and the price, only 35 cents, places it within the reach of all. Then in the afternoon and evening a restaurant will be kept open at which you can get a substantial meal to your liking. Oysters, cold ham, hard tack, coffee, cake, ice cream, etc., etc. And to add to the entertainment Meyer's orchestra and the Bellefonte band will appear in the post rooms in the evening and render concert No. 2. Gen. Beaver will be master of ceremonies during the evening, and it is very probable thet a number of brief addresses will be made. Everybody should turn out on that day and help to swell the relief fund of Gregg Post by getting their dinner and supper at the rooms and then enjoy a free concert. If the weather is favorable the band will give a parade prior to the concert.

SEVEN NOW IN THE TOILS.

The Police Scoop in a Number of Counterfeiters—Their Paraphernalia Also Captured.

Since Friday night a number of counterfeiters have been captured by the police in Altoona and furnished bail for a hearing on Tuesday.

For a long time past the police authorities have been aware that considerable spurious coin has been passed in Altoona, and a short time ago evidence was discovered leading to the belief that it was being made here. There being no funds to follow up the clue inadvertently dropped by the coiners the assistance of the United States secret service department was invoked. Mr. Daniel McSweeney, who has charge of the Western Pennsylvania district, began work on the case and had Secret Service Officer Matthew F. Griffin assist him in ferreting out the counterfeiters. Chief of Police Tillard furnished the information on which the work was begun, and from time to time aided the secret service men. Fortune favored the officers, who brought matters to a crisis on Friday night.

About 10 o'clock that night Daniel McSweeney, Secret Service Officer Matthew F. Griffin, Chief of Police Tillard, Patrolman Hopkins and Constable McFeely started for the house at 2524 Sixth avenue, occupied by M. A. Smith and family, who came to Altoona in April last. Here the father and son were placed under arrest. George W. Graves, who lives at Fifth avenue and Twenty sixth street, was afterwards taken into custody, then the officers repaired to the house of Lewis C. Statler, at 701 Fourth avenue. All night did he keep the minions of the law at bay, and it was not until 8 o'clock Saturday morning that he gave himself up. All the men arrested were committed to jail to await a hearing before United States Commissioner Ambrose at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning.

On Saturday night Chief of Police Tillard arrested another man, who is charged with "shoving" the "queer." Yesterday afternoon he arrested two more, a man and a woman, for the same offense. The chief refused to divulge the names of the parties arrested to a Times man last night, saying that McSweeney thought he had better be discreet. He said, however, that a whole counterfeiter's outfit had been upturned and placed in the hands of United States Commission Ambrose.—Times.

SMEAL CONFESSES.

John Smeal, of Sanborn, one of the three men who were arrested for stealing the satchel of D. Abramson, of this city, containing watches, chains and other jewelry, to the amount of $150, was not taken to Clearfield jail yesterday, as announced, but is still in the lockup awaiting the appearance of his father, who is expected today to go his bail.

Officer Gorton succeeded in getting a confession out of Smeals who admitted that he and the two Klines's had taken the jewelry and stated were it could be found. Constable Millwood went to the spot yesterday indicated by Smeal and there found the goods hidden away in a sack under a brush pile out in the woods some distance from Smeal's house.

The securing of Smeal's confession by Mr. Gorton, and the locating of the stolen goods by Constable Millwood in accordance with the story as told Gorton by Mr. Smeal, deserve no little praise.—Philipsburg Journal.

JERSEY DEADLOCK.

Trenton, N. J., February 18—The seventh week of the legislative deadlock begins to-morrow without any better prospect of a termination of the difficulty than that existing at the commencement of the trouble.

Governor Wert's anxiety to bring the trouble to an end seemingly grows greater every day. He forsees tremendous confusion in state affairs if the muddle is not straightened out. The tieing up of the courts of chancery is well nigh a certainty bringing untold hardship to hundreds and probably thousands of litigants. Chancellor McGill's terms expires May 1st and no adinterim successor to him can be appointed so long as the legislature is not in recess.

PENNSYLVANIA'S COAL PRODUCT.

The State of Pennsylvania produces more coal (anthracite and bituminous) than any country in the world save only England. In 1892, the total production reached the enormous aggregate of 99,167,080 tons. In round figures one hundred million tons of coal. This is six million tons more than Germany produced the same year, about four times the production of Belgium. The coal production of this single state was about five times as great as the combined production of the coal mines of Austria, Russia, Canada, Japan, Sweden, Spain and Italy. Pennsylvania is naturally greatly interested in coal. Employed in this vast industry in 1892 were 195,000 hands representing with their families not less than half a million persons.

RUMORS AND OMENS.

The report that Gov. McKinley is a candidate for United States senator from Ohio to succeed Mr. Brice, of New York, should be regarded with caution.

It is generally regarded, whether by the governor or not, that he is a "man of destiny," and if so he should be a man regardful of omens. There is often this singular fact of record; That no man ever went from the United States senate to the president's chair.

Although Gov. McKinley seems to be following, to some extent at least, in the footsteps of Gen Garfield, he shouldn't desire to follow them too far, and besides, Garfield, though a senator-elect at the time of his nomination for the presidency, had never taken the senatorial seat or been sworn in as senator.

If McKinley is not in fact an aspirant for the presidency, he may accept a nomination for the United States senate. Otherwise he will magnanimously permit the senatorial re slip from the auriferous figure of Mr Brice to the unfortunate shoulders of his friend, Charley Foster, or the fiery form of his other Ohio friend, Lawyer Forster, also of New York.

ROOSTERS IN RELIGION.

Says the New York World: An original preacher of this city used a live rooster in his sermon yesterday to illustrate how the devil takes men by the nose and leads them. The rooster was placed on a horizontalized blackboard, and a chalk line drawn straight away from his bill. He was motionless for a minute, and then threw back his crested head and crowed. As an objective sermon, with barnyard trimmings, it was a magnificent success. The entire congregation enjoyed it hugely, and the children crowed as loudly as the rooster.

This same preacher has used snakes and other things in his sermons. The ophidian ingredients were real and not imaginary, and the sideshow effects have been introduced for the purpose of simplifying the moral that went with every sermon. It seems to us that the rooster in church was about the best idea that the preacher could have hit upon. If one could always be secured that had "lungs that crow like chanticleer," other preachers might have them inserted at intervals in the service to awaken those members of the congregation whose chins are fallen or heads bent back, and whose regular breathing is about to roll itself up into a snore.

CONVICT REFORM.

The proposition to establish a home for the accommodation of ex-convicts in Pittsburg or Allegheny is the sort of charity that always commends itself to the philanthropic. That men released from penal institutions generally find it difficult to obtain honest employment and take a place in society equal to other people is a well known fact, and the assisting of such men has always been a pet project with those who desire to be of help to the unfortunate. Various plans have been adopted, with more or less success. As a rule, it has been found that ex-convicts who wan't to reform manage to find means to do it, either with or without assistance, while others, vicious or indolent, drift back to prison soon after getting out.

However, if the founding of a workshop or home could be expected to do good, it should be encouraged. Such an institution is in existence in Detroit, and is said to be improving the moral and temporal condition of many men who have made one false step, and if it is good for Detroit it should be for Pittsburg.

MANY MEN HURT.

Philadelphia, Feb. 20.—While the members of the Eleventh Ward Club and their friends were celebrating the Republican victory in the city and state at their club house at 532 North Second street tonight, a frame annex built out from the second story over the yard collapsed, and between forty and fifty men were thrown in a heap to the ground some thirty feet below. Willing hands soon extricated the struggling crowd and it was then found that thirteen men were hurt. With the exception of Rudolph Hertz aged 23, all the injured escaped with severe contusions and a few broken bone. Hertz was badly injured interally and was taken to the hospital where it was said he would probably die.

—On Thursday, February 22nd, the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania will give a free excursion to the Bellefonte Board Trade. They will be taken over the road in a special train which will leave the depot at the foot of Lamb street promptly at one o'clock p. m., and make the trip down and back before time for the regular train to depart on the afternoon trip.

THE JURY DISAGREED.

A Case Which Will Come Up Again in the Huntingdon Courts.

HUNTINGDON, Pa., February 16.—The case of the Commonwealth vs. Patrick Haley and Thomas Brady, a criminal proceeding which occupied the attention of the court and jury for three days, came to an unusual end this morning. Haley and Brady are engineer and fireman respectively on the Pennsylvania railroad and were indicted for negligently killing and involuntary manslaughter. At the conclusion of the evidence the case was given to the jury at 9.30 o'clock Wednesday morning, and when court convened this morning the jurors were discharged because of their failure to agree upon a verdict. The defendants will be tried again at the May sessions.

This case was considered an important one and it excited general interest. It was the outcome of the death of Abram Irvin, who was run down and killed by the locomotive manned by the two defendants on the evening of the 10th of March last, Irvin was a track walker in the company's employ between Petersburg and Barree and was on duty when killed.

Whether it was light or dark on the evening of March 10th, at 6.01 o'clock, when the fatality occurred, seemed to be an important feature of the trial and calendars and almanacs were used with freedom. The court decided that the defendants could only be tried for involuntary manslaughter. It is understood that the first and all subsequent votes of the jury was eight for acquittal and four for conviction.

MAKING SLOW PROGRESS.

WILKESBARRE, Feb. 16.—The two rescuing parties at work in the Gaylord mine, trying to find the thirteen entombed timbermen, are making very slow progress. Rock and coal continue to fall, and on more than one occasion they were obliged to flee from work in order to save themselves. Mine Inspector Williams and a number of other high officials were on the ground to day, but they could do nothing more than suggest what ought to be done, and this is being looked after by the superintendent of the mine, who is doing everything in his power to reach the men.

In the No. 5 workings of the mine the caves continue to take place, and piles of rock and coal appear to be falling continually. One of the entombed men, John D. Morris, was imprisoned in a mine in Wales for ten days, previous to coming to this country. It is safe to say to night, that it will take fully a month before the rescue parties can reach the men, or where they are supposed to be.

GREAT RELIGIOUS REVIVAL.

East Liverpool, O., February 16.—This is the seventh week of a great religious revival now in progress in the First M. E. church, of this city. Meetings have been conducted by Rev. J. M. Huston, who is now serving his first year as pastor of this church. There have been 250 conversions, and 160 persons have joined this church, while many others have associated themselves with the other churches.

Several of the other churches in this city have inaugurated religious meetings, both afternoon and evening, which are being attended by hundreds of the idle men now out of employment on account of the great strike in the potteries.

A LONG OCEAN RACE.

QUEENSTOWN, Feb. 15.—The British ship City of Hankow, Captain King, from San Francisco, arrived here to day, winning the long race from California in which she had three competitors.

The City of Hankow and the British ship Clan Mackenzie, Captain Simpsok, both sailed from San Francisco on the same day, and were followed on November 5 by the British ship Gantock Rock, Captain Pyle, and on November 7 by the British ship Garfield, Captain Conby. The captians had agreed to race to Queenstown for a money prize, and this has been won by the City of Hankow, which has made the trip in just about 106 days.

GUILTY IN THE SECOND COUNT

HUNTINGDON, Pa., February 16.—The jury this morning found James Craig, of Union Furnace, guilty on the second count of the indictment charging him with embezzlement and larceny as bailee. Craig's four brothers, among them Rev. John Craig, of Centre county, were the prosecutors. They were desirous of having James account of certain money belonging to the estate for their father, to which they were entitled to equal shares.

FORTY-SIX KILLED.

KIEL, February 16.—The disaster on the German war vessel Brandenburg, referred to in earlier dispatches to-day, occurred during the morning. The warship was undergoing a forced draught trial at the time of the explosion.

So far as can be learned 46 men were killed and a large number were injured by the bursting of the steam pipe. Four steamers have been dispatched, with doctors and medical supplies, to the assistance of the Brandenburg.

HEARS THE NEWS.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 16—The President was informed of the defeat af the Peckham nomination within a few minutes after it had been rejected. A prominent Senator sent a telegram to Mr. Cleveland over the wire running from the Senate to the White House.

During the Cabinet meeting, which lasted from 11 o'clock until 2:30, the President and the Cabinet officers present waited for some news from the Senate and it is said that the meeting was prolonged in the expectation that something definite would be received.

DISINHERITED HIS SON.

Robert L. Cutting Gets None of His Father's Estate Because He Married Minnie Seligman.

NEW YORK, Feb. 17.—The will of Robert L. Cutting and the two codicils were read before Associate Arnold to-day. Robert L. Cutting, husband of Minnie Seligman, the actress, and before his marriage to her the favorite son of his father, has been completely disinherited. The original will, as read, provided for an equal division of Mr. Cutting's estate between his two sons, Robert L. and James D. Cutting. One of the codicils, however, repealed the provision for Robert L. and says. "Because my son has contracted a marriage which is disapproved by me."

The second codicil, which is dated Sept. 18 last, provides that his son shall receive none of his estate, and was made so as to leave no doubt of the complete disinheritance of his son Robert. Robert L. Cutting's lawyer says they would contest the will on the ground that the codicils were never executed by a sane man. The will is withheld from probate until the arriva in this country from Europe of Mrs. Cutting, widow of the deceased testator.

NEIGHBORHOOD NEWS.

Diphtheria is raging in Lock Haven. Thus far there has been one death.

James Eckert, brakeman on the Bald Eagle valley railroad, is ill with typhoid fever at his sister's residence in Tyrone.

Thomas E. Clark, of Philipsburg, has been appointed fish warden of Clearfield county, by Fish Commissioner Ebel, of Harrisburg.

Harry Wilson, of Winterburn, Clearfield county, was killed by being run over by an engine while walking on the tracks near Falls Creek, Thursday night.

The glove contest between Levison, of DuBois, and Pugh, of Punxsutawney, in the former place Thursday night, ended in the sixth round, when Levison worsted his opponent.

Renovo base ball players are talking of organizing a club for the coming season, and, the News says, that the indications point to a team being placed in the field that will be able to compete with any club in this section of the state.

Two sled loads of young people from Lock Haven went to Blanchard Thursday evening and enjoyed themselves dancing in the rink to the sweet strains of Professor "Billy" Young's violin. Elegant refreshments were served. The party returned home at a late hour Friday morning.

RIDICULOUS ERRORS.

If all the ridiculous errors made in this world were compiled and published what a superlatiyely ridiculous volume it would make. This morning a gentleman entered this office and asked for a copy of Friday's Philadelphia Press. It was given him, and then he asked for six or seven other papers, which could not be suppled. Finally it dawned on us that the man took this for a news stand and was trying to lay in a supply of Sunday reading.

But one of the most laughable errors occurred this noon when the writer was coming down High street. When just opposite the residence of ex-Governor Curtin he was stopped by a young gentleman and his lady friend, and the question asked "If they kept good ice cream in that saloon?" Of course we acknowledged that they undoubtedly did, but not for sale; and also directed the pair just where to go. But then it takes all such things to vary the monotony of this humdrum, everyday life.

A MODEL FARMER.

B. K. Fisher dropped in to see us this morning, says the Punxsutawney Spirit, and this is what he said: I am a farmer now. I have the prettiest farm out there in Union Township you ever saw. There is not a fence, nor a stump, nor a tree, nor a ditch, nor a stone on it. The people laughed when they heard of me turning farmer, but I have shown them that all it takes to make a success at anything is plenty of snap and energy. I have 62 acres cleared. The first year I raised 1,843 bushels of wheat, 797 bushels of corn 480 bushels of potatoes, and made over $300 out of tomatoes and cabbage. Last year I raised 828 bushels of wheat, 71 tons of hay and straw, 968 bushels of oats, 157 bushels of potatoes, 22 bushels of beans, and made 22 barrels of cider. I'd like to see any of them beat that for 62 acres."

ROBBERS WRECK A TRAIN.

LOS ANGELES, Feb. 16.—A special from Mojave says: The Southern Pacific overland train was held up and wrecked at Roscoe about twelve miles west of Los Angeles about 11.30 last night. The switch was thrown and the train was run on a short spur throwing the engine and two cars off the track. Engineer Dave Thomas is badly injured and Fireman Arthur Masters, and an unknown tramp were shot and killed.

The robbers blew the express car open with bombs and robbed it. The amount taken is not known. There were three men in the gang and they started north on horseback after the robbery.

—William Bradford, aged 66 years, died at his home in Potter township on Wednesday morning, of pneumonia. He was buried at Boalsburg this morning.

WILL THIS BE THE CASE?

A Good Text for a Brief but Emphatic Sermon.

The versatile editor of the Tyrone Times thus dilates on Bellefonte's "boom-fever," as it is pleased to term it; the good (?) works of Boards of Trade, etc.:

"Bellefonte at present has the "boom fever," caused by exciting speeches delivered at her board of trade meetings. Tyone had the same fever about a year ago, when our board of trade was in full bloom. We expected then within six months to have about ten factories giving employment to several thousand men. The town was to receive such an impetus that would surprise even the wild and woolly western cities that spring up in a night. The board of trade meetings were very largely attended, people expected wonders, land doubled in price and every body believed we were on the road to prosperity. Result. Up to date no new factories. Board of trade gone a-glimmering. The swelled heads reduced to their normal condition. Those who opposed every step taken by the board of trade are now kicking themselves because they did not lend their aid to the cause. This is the natural course of all inland boards of trade and Bellefonte and other neighboring towns are only now passing through the same experience. We hope that after the excitement has passed away Bellefonte will graciously resume her normal condition and move along in the even tenor of her ways."

Now, it is all very well for our Tyrone neighbors, to talk thusly, as they talk from sad experience. But they have overlooked the one essential fact in favor of Bellefonte. Tyrone, although it is a town on the main line of the Pennsylvania railroad, yet it has no competing system, nor is it likely to have. Bellefonte is not only favorably situated on the P. R. R. system but it now has a competing road to the great east, the north, and even the west, with the probability of being in the near future an important station on one of the greatest trunk lines from Now York to Chicago. And then again; Bellefonters are not entirely given to solicitation, etc., to induce manufactories to locate here. If needful almost any amount of finance can be raised desired. Just now there are several firms considering the inducements and advantages offered to locate here, and there is almost a certainty of one or more of these industries coming here.

Bellefonte's Board of Trade is no myth; neither is it a delusion. It was organized for a good and noble purpose, and we have faith to believe that its end will not be untimely nor until it has accomplished the purpose of its origin. Then can our Tyrone neighbors look with envy at the "city built on hills," with its numerous and varied industries and consequent prosperity.

DEATH OF H. R. RHOADS.

The citizens of Bellefonte will learn with regret of the death of Mr. H R Rhoads, President of the Central Pennsylvania Telephone and Supply company, which sad event occurred at his home in Williamsport on Saturday at 9.30 o'clock, after an illness of about two weeks, the cause of death being an affection of the heart.

Mr. Rhoads was probably one of the best known and most aggressive men of the city of Williamsport. Starting out a poor boy, he began his career as a messenger boy. From that he became a telegraph operator, train dispatcher and held various other offices of importance and influence with the railroad company. From boyhood he was noted as an organizer and more that one project in Williamsport owes its origin to his fertile brain. It was in 1879 when he projected the organization of the Central Pennsylvania Telephone and Supply company, and with him to plan was to execute. He interested Mr. R. M. Bailey and a number of others with the result that the company was organized and pushed forward and from the very start has proved a great success. With its organization Mr. Rhoads was elected President and that position he has held ever since. And now, at his death, he was a director of the Merchant's National bank, President of the Williamsport Passenger Railroad Company, as well as being interested in a number of other concerns. He died possessed of a very fair fortune, an example of what a poor boy can do under this great republican form of government of ours.

Mr. Rhoads was aged forty-nine years past. He leaves to mourn his death a loving wife and three children, none of which are grown up.

AN INJUNCTION DISSOVLED.

HARRISBURG, Pa., February 16.—The injunction against the Soldiers' Orphans' school commission was dissolved by Judge Simonton this afternoon.

This leaves Captain Skinner free to act as a member of the commission and leaves the action of the commission in selecting the farm of Messrs. Stewart at Scotland, Franklin county, as the site for the industrial school valid and permits the commission to conclude the purchase and conclude its requisition upon the auditor general.

SCHOOL CHILDREN VACCINATED.

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa., Februrary 16.—Between 700 and 800 of the children attending the public school here were vaccinated to-day by order of the board of health, the school board having passed a resolution dismissing, after next Monday, all who fail to comply with the order. As there are over 5,000 pupils enrolled, it is expected that the attendance will be materially decreased. Legal proceedings have been started to restrain the board from taking this step, and a preliminary injunction has been applied for.

NITTANY VALLEY DAY.

Hundreds of People Avail Themselves of the Low Fare to Visit Bellefonte.

Saturday was "Nittany Valley Day" on Central Railroad of Pennsylvania, that is, the day in which that company gave an excursion over their entire line for the remarkably low rate of twenty-five cents. Contrary to the expectations of some, who thought because of the deep snow few would care to make the trip, the result was all that even the management could desire. The first train leaving Mill Hall for this place, was composed of five cars and everyone was crowded to its utmost capacity when it reached Bellefonte, and many persons at every station were compelled to wait for the next train. It is estimated that fully six hundred people came to Bellefonte on the first train which arrived in this place about 10.45 o'clock. The crowd was composed of people of all ages, sizes, colors and Nationalities. A few came to town on business but the greater majority came simply for the pleasure of the trip and to get a ride over the new road.

A special train left Bellefonte about 11.30 and made a round trip to Mill Hall and back and it brought in many hundreds more. The train leaving this place this afternoon at 3.50 was crowded to its utmost capacity. It is variously estimated that from fifteen hundred to two thousand people took advantage of the excursion today.

FANATICISM IN FAYETTE.

In a time like this, when the common talk is of privation and suffering, when the world seems old and worn out, it is not a wonder that fanatics like those in Fayette county find plenty of persons to believe that the end of all things is at hand; that there is soon to be the grand regeneration. They are convinced that it will be so soon that it is not worth while to enter on new enterprises, and so one man abandoned a lime kiln which he was constructing. When men are sure they know so much, they are equally sure that they can do extraordinary things, as healing the lame and giving sight to the blind, but in Fayette county, as elsewhere, they take good care not to have their powers put to the test. They say up there that they can find no such subjects for their thaumaturgic power. These rustics with their revelations ought not, however, to be judged too severely. How long has it been since an association of some sort was formed among ministers in New York to investigate the subject of the second coming in the belief that it was at hand? When the highest authority declared that the time of that could not be known, it is presumption to inquire into it And as one person is as about as good a judge as another, the preachers of the backwoods of Fayette county have as much reason to proclaim the advent immediately as others have for saying that it will occur within any certain number of years.

The commissioners appointed to investigate the subject of adopting in Massachusetts the Norwegian and Swedish system of controlling the liquor traffic have reported in favor of such action. They have also drafted a bill for the Legislature to consider if it should decide to adopt the system. This is the Gothenburg method, which allows towns and cities to grant to companies the right to deal in liquors under very severe restrictions. Only pure liquors can be sold, none can be purchased by minors or habitual drunkards and none can be drunk on the premises. The saloons also must be plain, unattractive apartments, and a certain percentage of the profits go to the local government. The method now being tried by Governor Tillman in South Carolina is based on the Gothenburg system, but owing to the political complications in that State it is not having a fair trial. Massachusetts offers a much more favorable field, and those who wish to see the liquor traffic regulated according to business principles would gladly see that State give the Norwegian plan a fair trial.

—Col. Fred. Ann. Harris, of Tyrone, the man who writes the witticisms for the Altoona Times and Harrisburg Patriot, is very indignant because the Philadelphia Times dubbed him "Only a reporter on a local paper," when it referred to how he missed the appointment our editorial brother, Hon. P. Gray Meek, was given. That's right, Fred., don't allow those metropolitan editors to tramp your toes too hard. It is bad enough to be "only a reporter," etc., but it is insult added to injury to have it thrown in a man's face just after missing such a fat plum as you missed.

DIED OF STARVATION.

Although He had Plenty of Money on His Person.

PHILADELPHIA, February 15.—In the squalid kitchen of his own house, 1209 North Thirteenth street, with plenty of money on his person, William MacRaith, aged 58, died of starvation. MacRaith's sister died last June and since that time he has lived alone. He was uncommunicative and was regarded as a sort of recluse by the neighbors. It was noticed that the snow on the sidewalk of his property had not been removed and a colored man who works in a store at the back of MacRaith's cottage, notified Officer Lefferb and he entered the house this morning to look for the old man. Laying on a dirty mattress in the foul room was the dead body of MacRaith. One hand was over his pocketbook, which was in his coat pocket and contained $62.24. Beneath him was part of a loaf of bran bread that had either been nibbled by himself or by rats.

On a table were found buns, stale and repulsive looking. It was ascertained that MacRaith had bought the bread at the bakery next door to his house two weeks ago, and that seems to have been the last time he was seen. He had not been dead long when found, but must have been helpless for days.

In the kitchen cupboard were found several deeds to properties, insurance policies and documents.

A brother of the deceased, Charles W. MacRaith, lives in Cambridge, Mass., and he has been wired of his brother's death.

WM. WOLF'S FAILURE.

Regarding the failure of Mr. William Wolf, of Centre Hall, the Centre Reporter states that the liabilities are put at over $24,000; of this amount Mrs. Wolf has made herself personally responsible for $7,000. Of the balance Mr. Witmer Wolf has become involved by indorsements to amount to two or three thousand dollars for which his two-third interest in the store of Wolf & Crawford was issued upon. For the balance there will be four properties of Wm. Wolf, which, at a forced sale might be knocked off at about $2,000.

This would make assets, $11,000, instead of $5,000 as given out by some reports, as against $24,000 liabilities.

There are a number of preferred judgments, first set near $4,000; after these $2027; next $7402—entered in name of trustees for various individuals; then follow later ones. The first set will come out in full, and the second possibly only pro rata, with no prospect for those that follow, unless property is knocked off far above usual forced sales.

The two thirds interest of Witmer Wolf in the store was knocked off at sheriff's saleto Orvis & Bower att'ys, for $2500; all the other personal property of Wm. and Witmer Wolf went for $100.

GOING FOR THE LAWYERS.

Mr. Jacob Sankey, formerly of Millheim, writes usa letter from Philadelphia, intended for publication, wherein he wields a heavy club against half a dozen Bellefonte lawyers, who, he alleges, have caused the Sankey estate to be worth $25,000 less than it should be. He endeavors to show that these dairymen of the Centre county bar have milked the Alderney cow belonging to the John Sankey estate to the tune of the above sum.

Mr. Sankey has on the war paint and means to make it so hot for Bellefonte law offices that such will be able to get along without steam heat with mercury 40 below 0. We are glad that a slayer is threatening the Philistines, who will use the law to use up the lawyers against whom his indignation has been aroused, hence we shall defer the publication of his letter as he will seek redress in a legal way.—Centre Reporter.

VIGOROUS HEALTH for MEN

Prof. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED Pastille

Has been put up in a proprietary form since 1873, and has been used for years prior to that time in private practice. It is no untried nostrum, of doubtful reputation, but a genuine specific for a very prevalent disease. Thousands of men, of all ages, have at some time in life brought on nervous debility and exhaustion, with organic weakness, by over brain work, excesses, too frequent indulgence or indiscretion and vicious habits, and it is to these that we offer a remedy that will, by its direct action upon the seat of the disease, stop the drain and restore the patient to vigorous health and strength.

Our method of introducing Prof. Harris' Pastille treatment is one which commends itself to all sensible persons—for the reason that we supply it upon their judgment of its value. We ask of our patrons nothing in the way of expense beyond a postal card and a two cent postage stamp. The postal card to be used in sending us their full address and the postage stamp for the letter returning the statement of their case for which we supply them with a question blank, to be filled out and an envelope addressed to ourselves for use in returning it when filled.

FREE TRIAL PACKAGE. When we receive the statement on blank we prepare eight days' treatment and forward it by mail and prepay postage thereon—and along with the eight days' treatment we send full directions for using. The treatment in no way interferes with a person's attention to business, and causes no pain or inconvenience in any way.

We are so positive that it will give perfect satisfaction that we leave the matter of sending orders entirely with those using the free trial treatment. Having satisfied those sending for trial packages of our ability to benefit their sexual condition we feel that they are more largely interested than ourselves in continuing the use of the Pastilles. Even then we do not attempt to rob them by demanding high prices. On the contrary, we make the prices as low as possible, and the same to all. They are as follows: $3 for one month; $5 for two months; $7 for three months.

These prices secure the delivery of the Pastilles by mail. If desired by express we leave the patient to pay the charges. For over ten years we have operated our business upon this plan with satisfactory results.

We ask all persons needing treatment for any of the secret ills which come to mankind through a violation of nature's laws to send us their address on postal card or by letter and allow us to convince them that PROF. HARRIS' SOLUBLE MEDICATED PASTILLES have merit and are what they need.

NEW YORK FASHIONS.

Spring Millinery—Stripes And Basket Weave Fabrics—Fashionable Skirts, Basques And Sleeves.

Very little that is familiar greets the eye in new millinery, shapes and trimmings presenting many novelties regarding mixtures of texture or color; a touch of black giving character to pale shades or toning down bright colored combinations. Straw hats are in very odd shapes, and although colors are quite delicate, various weaves are combined to such an extent, that ecru lace straws or leghorn plagues, are at present about the only exceptions; but how these parti-colored straws will be trimmed, is as yet a matter of conjecture. Black moire ribbon will be the leading trimming of the season, and bright colored flowers, gay satins, gilt crowns and hats will be used with a prodigality which explains the necessity for a modifying influence. Numerous small shapes come under the head of capotes and crinkled brims are only stylish on small round hats; large, black lace hats however, with rather high, flat crowns, encircled by four or five rows of faceted jet beads, almost as large as ordinary marbles, with another row at the outer edge, are a leading novelty. The popularity of both white and black lace, jet or steel is marked and rosettes are now a combination of satin and moire. Flowers will be used to an unlimited extent, large roses being especial favorites. Trimmings are very full and extremely fanciful, and three or four colors are combined with a buckle so large, that it occupies nearly the whole front or side of a hat In colors, several shades of Magenta are very prominent, green and purple as well, the cerise tints, all the brown hues, several of blue, with a very small proportion of yellow or crimson.

IF THE FIRST IMPORTATIONS

of Spring goods are a criterion of what is to follow, colors will be very delicate and designs very small. Mixed grounds over which colored silk threads appear and disappear, or narrow stripes on similar grounds with a third color in a diagonal stripe, are certain indications that narrow stripes of all kinds will be a special feature during the coming season, both lengthwise and in Bayadere effects. Loosely-woven stiffs are very attractive in squares or broad stripes which last are quite an exception to the general rule, and diamond squares, or cubes with irregular edges, woven in delicate contrast with the surface, bring about the general fancy weave effect, now so popular. Among many other beautiful Spring materials now seen at the well-known house of Lord & Taylor, are a line of basket and honeycomb weaves in the new varieties; such as contrasting silken threads between the squares, or on a neutral surface, honeycomb outlines are thrown up in harmonious blendings. Everything pertaining to a chine or changeable effect is very fashionable, and chine Cheviots are among the most desirable fabrics for early Spring, in such subdued shades however, that color must be imparted by a velvet collar.

NO RADICAL DIFFERENCES

are noticeable in new skirts, and overskirts are rather economical than otherwise, as two materials may be used to complete the costume, the underskirt, waist and upper sleeve being of one material, the overskirt and lower sleeve of the other. Overskirts still hang quite plain, two points at the back and front seeming to meet present demands, but as the season progresses, many new ideas may develop. Plain skirts will remain in favor, not unfrequently trimmed to simulate an overskirt, and if desired an underskirt need not be more than three and a half yards wide. For street wear, sharp contrasts will be avoided, and preference given to two shades of the same color. Round basques with full skirtings will certainly be in style, and much favor is anticipated for pointed basques in bodice shape, very fully trimmed. Shoulder seams will lengthen; sleeves quite as large, but drooping more toward the elbow. Chiffon, lace or jet are prominent trimmings, and the latest novelty in neckwear, is a very large black moire ribbon bow, extending to each shoulder, and edged with white lace, intended to be worn over street jackets.

VERONA CLARKE.

BIG FLOOD PROBABLE.

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Feb. 15.—A hail, snow and sleet storm prevailed throughout Rhode Island all night, and heavy rain followed this morning, which continued all day with a high wind.

Big snow banks along the valleys of the Blackstone and Pawtuxent are being cut away to-day very rapidly, and the different mill streams are having a boom, with a flood in some places, doing damage to the lower floors of large factories.

The stores in Providence are flooded and has caused much damage to goods stored in cellars. Business is paralyzed again and traffic is very light.

DRIVEN INSANE.

HAZLETON, Feb. 15.—John Moser, nephew of Buckhardt Moser, whose estates are said to be worth some $15,000,000, and claimed to be illegally held by the Lehigh Coal and Navigation Company, was this evening removed from his home by officers, he having become violently insane. Litigation between the Moser heirs and the coal company has been kept up for years, and a decision is now pending before the Schuylkill county courts. Brooding over the estates he believes he should posses is said to have affected Moser's mind. He is in poor circumstances and will be sent to the alms house to-morrow.

LOCAL BASE BALL.

The following sensible view from the Williamsport Republican we heartily endorse:

The River league of base ball clubs composed of teams from Williamsport, Renovo, Bellefonte, Tyrone, Milton and Bloomsburg did not get under way last year until the season had been far advanced and it was unfortunate to a certain extent that the clubs of Williamsport, Renovo and Bellefonte were so much stronger than the other clubs that the interest was not so great when one of the weaker clubs was pitted against one of the strong ones. In as much of the River league experiment as we were able to make last year it was clearly demonstrated that with such an organization composed of clubs of as near equal strength as it is possible to make them there is a fair chance for baseball in Williamsport, Bellefonte, Renovo, Tyrone, Milton, Bloomsburg and one or two other places in this portion of Pennsylvania. The cities that might be included in this are Lock Haven and Danville and we should say that all of the cities named ought to be able to support clubs strong enough to make every contest interesting and insure the success of a league made up of clubs under proper management and playing under rules rigidly enforced calculated to give the patrons of the game a good quality of ball playing and no exhibition of great ability to talk for a long stretch around the umpire after he has made a decision.

TEXT BOOK QUESTION.

Dr. N. C. Schaeffer, superintendent of public instruction, has issued the following circular on the text book question:

"School text books purchased by boards of directors at the expense of their respective districts, as authorized and required by the act of May 18, 1893, 'Are for use in the public schools.' The books cannot, therefore, be used under any condition whatever in private schools of any kind, The directors have no discretion in the matter, except what the law gives to them; and, inasmuch as the law itself limits the use of the books to the public schools, the directors cannot consistently nor legally permit the use of the free text book in private or subscription schools.

"The patrons of the schools are to be commended for the progressive spirit shown in the desire expressed to have better educational advantages for their children than are offered by short terms of schools. The proper course, however, to pursue in all such cases, is to extend the term of the public school and thus give all the children the advantages of longer annual terms, and free text books as well as free tuition. This is the correct solution of the whole question, and it is in accordance with the spirit of the laws governing the operation of the public school system. Where free text books are in use, the schools must be free also, open to all children alike without any conditions or restrictions which the law itself does not authorize."

THE NEEDLEWORK GUILD.

The members of this Guild are in urgent need of assistance to enable them to carry on their work. While their resources are almost completely exhausted, the number of applicants have greatly increased, there being a larger number of applications for relief on Monday last than on any previous distributing day during the winter. The Bread-winners of families are unemployed and much destitution prevails, many being without sufficient food and clothing. The charitable people of Bellefonte, whom God has blessed with abundance, are therefore appealed to once again to help those in need. Contributions of money, worn clothing, Shoes, groceries, etc., will be thankfully received at the W. C. T. U. rooms, Crider's Block, on Saturday afternoon, from 4 to 6 o'clock.

"He that hath pity upon the poor Lendeth to the Lord, and that which he hath given will he pay him agdin."

WAGNER--KIMPORT.

More than a hundred guests assembled at the comfortable country home of Mr. Lot W. Kimport, in College township, on Wednesday evening, to witness the marriage of Cora A., eldest daughter of the family, to W. A. Wagner, a well-to-do young merchant of Kipple, Blair county, Pa. The ceremony was performed promptly at 6:30 o'clock, Rev. Wagner, of the Lutheran church, officiating. The couple were unattended, though Samuel Kimport, a brother of the bride, and Mr. John Wagner, looked after the comfort of the guests in the capacity of ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held and a wedding supper was served. It was all the most fastidious could crave. Abundance of the most delicious viands were served those who were fortunate in having been there.

The bride is an accomplished young woman and is a cousin of Prothonotary Wm. Smith, and her husband a man who will honor and love her. The pair will go to house-keeping at Kipple. Congratulations.

—Forty one applications for liquor licenses have been filed in this county. Of this number thirty-three are for tavern license; three for wholesale beer; three for wholesale liquors, and two distillers. License court will be held the first Tuesday in March.

THE MINE DISASTER.

The Rescueing Party Is Still Busily at Work.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., February 15.—There are no new facts regarding the terrible accident at the Gaylord mine in Plymouth since yesterday. The rescueing party are vigorously pushing the work of trying to reach the thirteen entombed men and everything possible is being done to unearth them. The situation as it is, is exciting, as the men at work are greatly hindered in their progress through the fall of rocks and coal. Up to this evening very little of the debris has been handled, though reports are circulated that they have penetrated through 400 feet of solid coal, which is not true. A plan was adopted to-night by the mine officials to enter the No. 4 workings of the Delaware and Hudson Coal company adjoining. If they can reach the end of a gangway in this mine where a huge door connects with the Gaylord workings, it is probable that the rescuing party may proceed to a point within thirty feet of where the men are supposed to be, and should the air course not be choked up with debris from previous falls, they may find the men within the next two days. To say the least, the work of the rescuing party is attended with the utmost danger. The Gaylord mine has been squeezing on more than one occasion to-day and a number of falls have again occurred.

The situation as far as can be ascertained from miners who know these workings is anything but encouraging.

Another rescuing party, consisting of over 100 men, was formed to night. They at once went to work on what is known as the Old Mountain opening and it is firmly believed that these men in this particular place will make better headway through the fall than the men working on the lower end.

Another fall took place to-night and six of the rescuing party barely escaped being killed Superintendent Picton, of the mine, whose son is one of the entombed men, became prostrated to-day and his life is said to be in danger. A telephone message from Plymouth at 11 o'clock to night says that his recovery is doubtful.

The new rescuing party are reported to be making big headway, but there are no hopes of finding the men alive. The Gaylord mine is ruined and can never be operated in the future. The loss will be heavy to the Kingston Coal company.

WHAT ARE THE "BLUES"?

Woman's Color is an Unfailing Thermometer.

[SPECIAL TO OUR LADY READERS.]

A woman's thermometer is her color. She is red with embarrassment or some deep emotion; she is white with fright; she is supposed to be green with envy; but when she is blue it means that she is sick.

It is not the fault of the woman if she has the blues and that "want-to-be-let-alone" feeling. It is the fault of her condition which makes happiness impossible.

No woman can be happy and light-hearted when painful female complaints crush out her life.

If she is melancholy, excitable, nervous, dizzy, or troubled with sleeplessness or fainting spells, they are symptoms of serious female weakness.

A leaf out of the experience of Mrs. Anna Miller, who lives at Duhring, Pa., shows that Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound will cure that terrible weakness and bearing-down pain in the abdomen, the dizziness in the head, the feeling of irritability, and loss of appetite.

"I can highly recommend your Vegetable Compound," she writes, "for all female complaints. It's my greatest friend."

"BOSS" M'KANE.

He May Be Compelled to Go to Sing Sing on Monday.

BROOKLYN, N. Y., February 19.—An exciting scene took place while Sheriff Dutling was trying to work McKane through the immense crowd that filled the court house lobbies to the street where stood the carriage which was to take the prisoner to the jail. Nearly all of them were Gravesend adherents of the convicted boss. As he appeared, the crowd surged around him. Sheriff Dutling, his deputies and the police could not clear the way. The jam was so great that they could not get through. McKane raised his hand and called out: "Clear the way, boys."

"All right, chief," shouted the big crowd in thunderous tones. In a minute the crowd had fallen back, but they kept up a continuous shouting: "Hurrah for McKane." "Stand by the chief." "Three cheers for Chief McKane." "We'll always be your friend." Then McKane waved for the men to make way for the horses. The crowd fell back and the carriage stood away towards the jail with the shouting crowd following.

McKane's lawyers will now make a strong effort to keep him from going to Sing Sing. Unless they get a stay of time to prepare exceptions on which to base a motion for a stay he will have to go to Sing Sing in a few days.

His lawyers said they would apply some time to-day to a supreme court judge for delay. Unless they are successful in this effort by Monday he will be taken to Sing Sing.

John McKane will not go to Sing Sing to-morrow, as was expected. At 9 o'clock to-night Lawyer Roderick succeeded in getting from Justice Edgar M. Cullen a stay of proceedings until Friday next.

THE MINE HORROR.

WILKESBARRE, Pa., February 19.—To enter the town of Plymouth to-day one would never dream that a catastrophe had ever occurred there, and but few curiosity seekers were seen at the Gaylord mine. From all that can be learned there is not a ray of hope of securing the men that have been entombed, and the truth of it is that it will be many days yet before they are found. The reports given out by many of the mine officials are misleading and cannot be relied upon. The news that comes from the rescuers below has been in meagre quantities all day long. The work of the rescuing parties is progressing slowly and it is groundless to say that they have made any great headway since yesterday. The mine is in such a bad condition that the men at work cannot push it to any degree of headway.

SO TO SPEAK.

Woman is wonderfully made! such beauty, grace, delicacy and purity are alone her possessions. So has she weaknesses irregularities, functional derangements, peculiar only to herself. To correct these and restore to health, her wonderful organism requires a restorative especially adapted to that purpose. Such an one is Dr Pierces Favorite prescription—possessing curative and regulating properties to a remarkable degree. made for this purpose alone- recommended for no other! Continually growing in favor, numbering as its staunch friends thousands of the most intelligent and refined ladies of the land. A positive guarantee accompanies each bottle—at your druggist's. Sold on trial!

A NARROW ESCAPE.

SOMERSET, Pa., February 19.—Early this morning Mrs. Adriel Artice, who lives with her husband and eight children on a farm near here, arose to give a sick child a dose of medicine. As she approached the child's bed with the medicine in one hand and a kerosene lamp in the other, she struck the lamp against a sewing machine and the lamp was shattered to pieces. In a moment the room was in flames and the frantic mother grasped her sick child and fled from the building. Her husband barely rescued the other children. The building and all of its contents were entirely destroyed.

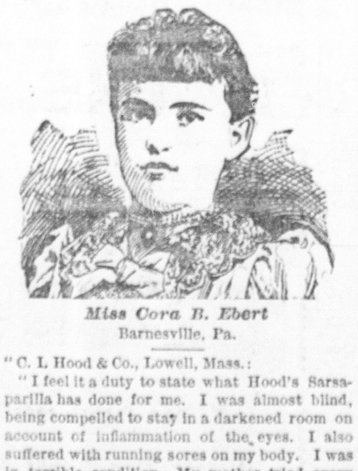

THE ANTIETAM COMMISSION.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 19.—General Greenland has furnished Governor Pattison with the names of the distinguished ex-soldiers who participated with the Pennsylvania troops at the battle of Antietam. The Governor will select from the list 15 or 20 to serve as a commission to act in conjunction with Colonel J. P. Stearns and General H. Heth, the Antietam Board at Washington in locating the positions held bo the troops from this state at the battle.

Almost Blind

Inflamed Eyes and Running Sores

The Success of Hood's Causes Great Rejoicing—A Perfect Cure.

Miss Cora B. Ebert
Barnesville, Pa.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"I feel it a duty to state what Hood's Sarsaparilla has done for me. I was almost blind, being compelled to stay in a darkened room on account of inflammation of the eyes. I also suffered with running sores on my body. I was in terrible condition. My mother tried every thing she knew about and I was attended by two doctors but without helping me. Finally Hood's Sarsaparilla was recommended and I had not taken two bottles before I began to get better. The inflammation left my eyes and the sores healed, and the result was that and was restored to perfect health. At that time I was only twelve years old; now I am nineteen and I have not since been troubled with my eyes or noticed any sign of a return of the sores on my body. I can recommend Hood's Sarsaparilla as an excellent blood purifying medicine." MISS CORA EBERT, Barnesville, Pa.

Spring Needs.

What Everybody Requires at This Season.

SOME THINGS ARE OF THE UTMOST IMPORTANCE TO YOU.

In the spring changes always take place in our systems which require attention. There is a tired, languid feeling, a depression, the digestive organs become deranged, the blood is bad, causing the complexion to become affected and the person feels an inability to work.

At such a time a spring medicine is absolutely necessary. It will overcome all these conditions. It will invigorate the blood, regulate the digestive organs, clear the complexion and make you feel strong and well. The following letter written by Miss Nettie Fraser, of Paterson, N. J., will interest you.

"Since my childhood I have been extremely nervous, easily excited and at times suffering with extreme nervous prostration. A year ago last June I was so bad that the attacks were almost hysterical, and my appetite and digestion were in a terrible condition. I also suffered with great mental depression.

MISS NETTIE FRASER.

"I was induced to try Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy and the first bottle had a wonderful effect on my condition. After four bottles were used I was entirely cured. I never used any medicine that helped me so much, and I would recommend it in the highest terms possible, as too much cannot be said in praise of this wonderful medicine."

We are constantly receiving just such letters telling of the great good which is being done by this medicine. You want health don't you? You want to get up in the morning and feel like doing a good day's work, do you not? And you want your children to feel strong and vigorous, don't you? Well Dr. Greene's Nervura blood and nerve remedy will you do all this.

It will give to you and your children perfect health and that is exactly what you want. It is the best spring medicine known and has the great advantage of being purely vegetable and harmless. It was discovered by Dr Greene, of 35 West 14th Street, New York City, the most successful specialist in curing nervous and chronic diseases. He can be consulted free of charge, personally or by letter.

A WINTER VACATION IN FLORIDA.

On February 13th and 27 and March 13th and 27 the Pennsylvania Railroad company will run personally-conducted tours to Florida. The special trains in charge of experienced tourist agent and chaperon will leave New York 9.30, Trenton 11.08 A. M., Philadelphia 12.10, Wilmington 12 50, and Baltimore 2.39 P. M. These trains will be composed of the finest Pullman sleeping and dining cars fitted with modern appointments and conveniences of the most sumptuous type.

$50 from New York, $48 from Philadelphia and Baltimore, and proportionately low from other points on the system, will cover all expenses while on the special trains—transportation, Pullman accommodation, and meals, with the exception of the last tour, the ticket for which covers Pullman facilities south bound only, the limit however, being May 31 st, thus allowing a much longer visit.

A stay of two weeks in the glorious health-inspiring peninsula may be enjoyed on the first three, and that time may well be spent in following out the numberless side trips available from Jacksonville. These tours are especially apropos during the penitential season now upon us, and a vacation in this beautiful State should prove of great benefit to those more or less fatigued from the pleasures of the social life and excitement of the winter.

NINE UNDER ARREST.

ALTOONA, Feb. 19.—Two more men in the tolls of the United States secret service officers in this city, making a total of nine arrests thus far. These two latter prisoners were brought here today by the officers and given a preliminary hearing before the United States Commissioners. They are John G. Stegers, of Coalport, and Harry McFarland, of Utahville, Clearfield county. The charge against them is that of making and selling counterfeit coin.

DEATH OF WILLIAM GREEN.

William Green, (colored) who has been ailing for a month or more with the pneumonia, died at his home on Logan street Monday evening about five o'clock. Mr. Green was probably one of the most familiar figures in Bellefonte and also the best known man of his race in town. For almost thirty years he has been porter at the Brockerhoff House, and in all that time he discharged his duties faithfully and well. He was an old soldier, being a member of Company K, Sixth United States colored infantry. He was a good soldier, always found where duty called. He is survived by a wife and large family of children. The funeral will take place on Thursday afternoon at 2 o'clock.

AMONG THE STUDENTS.

Monday's rhetorical exercises of the High School were opened with the song entitled, "Traveling the high road to learning." This was followed by a terrible onslaught of literary talent which for a time caused the small audience to tremble. The program in full was as follows:

Essay, "Winter," Olive Steele.
Recitation Clara Cole.
Essay, "Horses," Verna Smith.
Recitation, Daisy Smith.
Essay, "Coal," Lizzie Schofield.
Recitation, Mary Hunter.
Essay, "Mountains," Alfred Irvin.

WHAT WILL DO IT?

MEDICAL writers claim that the successful remedy for nasal catarrh must be non-irritating, easy of application, and one that will reach the remote sores and ulcerated surfaces. The history of the efforts to treat catarrh is proof positive that only one remedy has completely met these conditions, and that is Ely's Cream Balm. This safe and pleasant remedy has mastered catarrh else has ever done, and both physicians and patients freely concede this fact. Our druggists keep it.

MEN THAT JUMP.

At conclusions, are generally "off their base." Because there are numberless patent medicines of questionable value, it doesn't follow that all are worthless. Don't class Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy with the usual run of such remedies. For it is doing what others fail to do! It is curing the worst cases of Chronic Nasal Catarrh. If you make a thorough trial, you'll be cured. $500 forfeit for an incurable case. This offer, by Worlds Dispensary Medical Association, Buffalo, N. Y. At all druggists; 50 cents.

"My mother had headache every day, but has been cured by Hood's Vegetable Pills." CARRIE HAWTHORNE, Windfall, Pa.

The Social Economist, discussing "Decline in Railway Values," holds that the industries which were supposed to be least benefited by tariff protection and most in need of relief are first to feel the blow of threatened tariff reduction. Railways, it has been said, are suffering for want of free rails. The decline in railway values incident to the election of a President and Congress pledged to give them free rails and to reduce taxation to the "lowest sum demanded by the wants of the government economically administered" exceeds the swiftest rate of exhaustion of values incident to the war of the rebellion, about $1,000,000 a day. This is a high rate to pay for "solemn consecration to duty," and for "relief from the robber barons."

AMERICAN WHEELMEN.

The General Assembly of the League Meets in Louisville.

Louisville, Ky., February 19.—The general assembly of the League of American Wheelmen began its sessions here to day, 95 delegates being present in person and 83 proxies were accredited.

The first business in order was the reading of President Burdette's annual report. In order that the League of American Wheelmen might become incorporated he proposed an amendment to the constitution making the organization a joint stock company. On the subject of road improvement he dwelt at great length and complimented the members heartily on the gratifying results achieved. During the year the executive committee has called $100,000. All accounts had been examined and found to be correct. The president's statement completely exonerates Isaac B. Potter, of the bureau of road improvements, from the charge that he had altered a contract. The president's paper was received with general approval. Treasurer Brewster's report showed a balance of $60. As to membership the grand total is now 36,950, an increase of 2,646 since the last report. There has been a falling off in daily members. A year ago there were 1,162, now there are but 615.

IN THE SUNDAY SCHOOL.

A Southern clergyman having "a roving commission," and whose great forte was in his ability to address the children at Sunday schools, commenced his remarks in Brooklyn by stating that on his way northward he had on previous Sundays addressed children at Baltimore. Then he went to Philadelphia, thence to New York, and from Brooklyn he should go to Boston.

After giving his hearers most excellent advice as to how they were to conduct themselves in this world in order to obtain an entrance into heaven, he added: "But it—but if—my dear little boys and my dear little girls, you neglect the opportunities you now have, you will go to hell."

Then, wishing to ascertain how attentive his audience had been, he tested their memories with the following questions:

"Where did I say I first commenced addressing Sunday school children?"

A dozen voices answered, "In Baltimore?"

"Where did I go next?"

"To Philadelphia," was the response.

"And then?"

"To New York."

"And where did I say I was going from Brooklyn?"

"To hell! was the unexpected and unsatisfactory answer, and anything but complimentary to our modern Athens.

MARRIAGE LICENSES.

Following is the list of marriage licenses granted by the register of Centre county during the past week:

W. A. Wagner, of Kipple, Blair county, and Cora A. Kimport, of State College.

Philip C. Bradford and Katie B. Lee, both of Potter township.

J. H. Dunkle, of Hublersburg, and Ida B. Johnson, of Marion twp.

Luther K. Hosterman, of Woodward, and Cora M. Hazel, of Madisonburg.

J. Calvin Gates and Barbara E. Hastings, both of Ferguson township.

M. Herbert Smith and Mary E. Keen, both of Millheim.

William W. Wance and Maggie E Long, both of Aaronsburg.

J. C. Rockey and Arameata Lowry, both of Benner township.

Jesse Wolford and Curtie Roan, both of Fillmore.

A GOOD SHOWING.

Rev. W. R. Whitney, pastor of the Osceola M. E. church, has many friends in this county who will be pleased to know that the past year has been a very successful one in his field of labor. He reports that during the year thus far 85 persons have been received into full membership. Of these 54 are married and 31 single; of the single 17 are adults and 14 are youths and children. Twenty-two have been received on probation. The losses in membership have been one by death, one by withdrawal and twelve by letter, leaving a total net gain in full membership of 71. This is a very creditable showing. The Epworth League, in connection with the church, is reported in a most flourishing condition.

PHYSIOLOGY AND HYGIENE.

A Word to the School Teachers of This and Other Counties.

MR. EDITOR:—Although the study of physiology and hygiene was prescribed by law for the public schools of Pennsylvania in 1885, there are still many teachers who, from want of proper text books and other causes, are unable to teach it to their satisfaction, who do not know, as some of them say, "what to teach." Mrs. Ella B. Greene, of Hyde Park, Mass., who is a competent institute instructor in this study, recently arranged an outline which may be useful to such teachers, and which is given below.

PLAN FOR PROGRESSIVE STUDY.

This is based on the proposition that the central object of this study is to teach the science of health; that the science of temperance is a part of the science of health; that to understand the science of health a child must know something of physiology in lower grades, and anatomy to some extent in the upper grades.

PRIMARY WORK.

Introductory lesson or lessons to impress deeply the idea of the great importance, beauty and sacredness of the body.

Distinguish noticable parts of body, learn names, also simplest uses; as eyes to see; ears to hear, etc., etc.

Present ideal of perfect health as motive to study care of body. Example; bright eyes, strong arms, etc., etc. Prefacing teaching with such phrases or expressions as 'if we wish to be well and strong'; if we wish to keep our bodies beautiful,'-etc., etc.

Teach care of eyes, teeth, hair, etc., on through the parts as far as wise, measuring up constantly to the ideal standard.

Introduce subject of foods under three subdivisions; viz: Why we need food; kinds of food; and simple hygienic statements or rules about eating.

Develop by means of best primary methods the ideas of the need of food for the purpose of sustaining life, promoting growth, giving strength, supplying heat, and repairing waste. Recognize also the fact of hunger, and explain it to be nature's reminder that we need food, this being a germ thought from which to develop later the contrast between the natural and the abnormal appetite.

Having established a standard by which to judge substances considered to be foods, study kinds of foods, grain, fruit, vegetable, etc., illustrating with objects, and continuing as far as time will allow, formulating inferences drawn from study into simple statements as to correct methods of eating, etc. These may serve a practical purpose as memory gems.

Study under foods, substances both healthful and injurious, that children may early learn to discriminate and select.

Follow foods with study of drinks. (While all healthful drinks are really foods it may be well to consider separately in primary and intermediate work.)

Introduce study of harmful drinks by review of the good foods grapes and apples; and with use of objects follow the crushing out of juice, the washing of dust which contains ferments into juice; observe by taste its sweetness, and explain that the ferments make out of the sugar a substance named alcohol, and that it is called a poison because it does harm, and enough will kill. Infer that although the fruit was good, the drink made from it contains some of the poison named alcohol, hence it is now a poisonous drink and should be avoided because harmful. Name here for convenience, tobacco in cigars or cigarettes as containing another poison which makes them harmful, hence infer to be avoided. (Reserve all mention of opinion till intermediate work.) The child now knows how alcohol comes into the commonest harmful drinks, and that it is surely there. Beer must of necessity be named as a harmful drink to be avoided because it contains alcohol, but a study of the changes by which alcohol appears may wisely be deferred till intermediate work.

It is necessary to teach plainly two peculiarities of these poisons; viz: 1st, to make dull and sleepy; 2nd, to cause one who takes a little to want more and more, from year to year, till he may go to ruin. Hence infer the only safe way is never to touch anything that contains them.

Primary work may also include most visible effect of alcoholic drinks and tobacco upon the special senses; trouble with eyes, ears; senses of taste and smell dull, not acute; hands unsteady, referring not to nerves, but indicating that the eye does not guide the hand to draw nest lines, etc.

INTERMEDIATE WORK.

A brief review of the primary with special study of the physiology and hygiene of the internal organs and the nervous system, making hygiene largely predominate. Show simplest effects of the light drinks containing alcohol, also effects of tobacco and opium found in soothing syrups, etc., upon the system. Illustrate work by very simple experiments and physical exercises, explaining the use of the movements.

Under review of narcotic substances make plain the presence of alcohol in beer, and compare beer making with bread making, because a sophistry concerning this is often thrust upon young children. When reviewing wine and cider show how the microscopic plants, the ferments, can be killed by heat and the juices made useful, as in canning fruits and fruit juices, making jellies, preserves, etc. Do not introduce the chemistry of this, reserving that for advanced work.

ADVANCED GRAMMAR WORK.

Use laboratory methods as far as possible. Make anatomy conspicuous, and fill in all topics only partially developed previously. Under review of foods study their chemistry and illustrate where possible with practical cooking lessons. Illustrate anatomy with prepared specimens under a microscope, but avoid dissecting. Manual training is a practical illustration, also drawing.

In this grade avoid the simple forms of expression used in lower grades and also the extreme technicalities of the High School.

Prefer English to Latin words."

All teachers, but especially those who are not supplied with the endorsed text books, would find the "Monthly Advices" prepared by Mrs. Mary H. Hunt, 23 Trull St., Boston, a valuable assistance and very inexpensive.

MARY F. LOVELL, Supt.
Box 163, Bryn Mawr, Penn.

NOTE: I would like if every teacher in Centre county now receiving Sci Tem "Monthly Advices" given by our W. C. T. U., would write me, even a postal, before their school closes, and give their opinion of these "helps." How much or how little they have been helped is the question I desire answered. If there is one teacher in the schoolroom, in our county, who does not receive them, you can have them free, by addressing Mrs. N. J. Twitmire, Bellefonte, Pa., Centre county of Sci Tem. Instruction for W. C. T U.

GALLANT RUFUS CHOATE.

On a pretty girl saying to Rufus Choate, "I am very sad-you-see," he replied, "O, no: you belong to the old Jewish sect; you are very fair-I-see!"

Nothing adds so much to the beauty of a fair girl, as a clear, bright, healthy complexion, and to secure this pure blood is indispensable so many of the so-called blood-purifiers sold to improve a rough, pimply, muddy skin, only drive the scrofulous humors from the surface to some internal vital organ, and disease and death is the inevitable result. On the contrary, Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery strikes directly at the root of the evil, by driving the impurities entirely out of the system, and with a fresh stream of pure blood flowing through the veins, nothing but the softest and fairest of complexions can result.

NOTHING FITS your case, if you're an overworked or "run-down" woman, like Doctor Pierce's Favorite Prescription. In any condition of the female system, this will build up, strengthen, regulate, and cure.

Every mother needs it. It lessens the pains and burdens of childbearing, insures healthy, vigorous offspring, and promotes an abundant secretion of nourishment on the part of the mother.

It is an invigorating tonic made especially for woman, and the only guaranteed remedy for her weaknesses and ailments. For periodical pains, bearing-down sensations, displacements, and all "female complaints" and disorders, if it ever fails to benefit or cure, you have your money back.

Can you ask more?

For a perfect and permanent cure of Catarrh, take Dr. Sage's Catarrh Remedy. Its proprietors offer $500 reward for an incurable case of Catarrh in the Head.

THE ADVENTIST CHAPEL.

It is a great mistake that Mr. Wheeler's work is dying out in this city. It has been gathering strength in silence under unbaffled efforts, inspired by the conscientiousness of his cause, and the Biblical strength of his doctrine.

He has circulated reading matter at his own expense, and taught the Bible in families, and preached to the publicans and sinners of the prison when cast out by the Pharasees and Scribes.

The Adventists are now opening a chapel for their services in what was the Methodist church on Jail hill, which will be opened for Sabbath and Sunday services.

BOARD OF TRADE EXCURSION TRAIN.

The special train carrying the Bellefonte Board of Trade over the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania will leave the Lamb street station at one o'clock p. m., on Thursday. By the courtesy of the Railroad officials ladies will be of the party. Two tickets for each member of the Board have been furnished to Clement Dale, secretary, and members can procure them by calling at his office.

As a household remedy it cannot be excelled. -Mr. L. E. Brockett, 429 Church St., Norfolk, Va., writes: "I suffered a great deal from nervous headache, sore throat, etc., and found no relief until I tried Salvation Oil. I now recommend it to my friends as a household remedy that cannot be surpassed."

THE COUNTERFEIT CASES.

At the time fixed for the hearing of the nine parties charged with making or uttering counterfeit money Tuesday, the office of United States Commissioner Ambrose and the hallways adjacent thereto were well filled by people who were anxious to learn the fate of the accused.

Thomas H. Greevy, esq., appeared for Lewis Statler and Mrs. Feeny, while E. M. Amies looked after the interest of Grant W. Yon. United States District Attorney Harry W. Hall was present to look after the interest of the government.

But three of the poisoners were given a hearing yesterday. These were M. A. Smith, Charles Smith and George Grove. The officers who made the arrests were the witnesses examined and their testimony showed that a complete counterfeiting apparatus, also a considerable quantity of counterfeit money had been captured with and on the persons of the prisoners. Some of the coins were as yet unfinished, but the greater portion of them were fairly good specimens of the counterfeit's art, and would easily pass unless closely scrutinized. The evidence in the case of the two Smiths and Grove was conclusive, and as none of the prisoners had any defense to offer, they were held in the sum of $2,000 bail each, being taken back to jail at Hollidaysburg.

In the case of Mrs. Feeny, Statler and Keith it was decided to continue the amount of bail at $2,000 each and postpone the hearing until Tuesday next at 10 o'clock in the morning.

Mr. Amies applied to Commissioner Ambrose to fix a date for a hearing in the case of Grant Yon, and after some discussion it was decided that the cases against Yon, Stegers and Harry McFarland should be heard on Thursday afternoon next at 2 o'clock.

District Attorney Hall asked that the cases against M. A. Smith, Charles Smith and George Grove be continued until Wednesday, February 28, at 2 o'clock in the afternoon. United States Commissioner Ambrose granted the continuance and the three defendants will accordingly come up for a further examination at that time. —Altoona Tribune.

THE FIRST CASE ON RECORD.

The Harrison Bros., who were connected with W. L. Main's circus at the time it was wrecked last Decoration Day above Tyrone, have gone into the museum business and are now exhibiting at Gallipolis, O. While at Ironton, O., last week they had a piece of luck that doesn't often fall to any one's lot—even a showman.

J. D. Harrison, writing to Editor Banks of the Altoona Gazette, under date February 15, gives the following account of the incident:

"A female monkey in our museum which was exhibiting here (Ironton) this week, gave birth to twins last night. This is the first instance on record of twin monkeys ever being born in captivity. The monkey is of the pigtail species and was imported from India last summer by Scribner & Smith's circus, who sold the animal to us for a trifle, thinking the monkey was ailing and would die. Hearing of the strange birth of their former 'sick' monkey, Scriber, of the circus firm, telegraphed an offer of $600 this morning for the trio, which we have declined. Mother and babies are alive and doing well."

J. D. Harrison will be well remembered here where he made many friends during his involuntary stay in this section. He is the showman who endeavored to induce the HERALD editor to go with him to capture an escaped panther, and on not succeeding in this, went in search of the animal himself, with the result that the rumor got out that he had the panther in combat and had been severely chewed, which rumor was incorrect but so widely circulated that he gained a heap of reputation.—Tyrone Herald.

A Bad Umbrella Habit Is Cured For the Outlay of $1.

Some years ago I answered an advertisement which offered in return for a $1 bill to send an infallible remedy for the habit of leaving one's umbrella behind in offices and more especially in vehicles. As a money maker that advertiser was a distinct genius, for in response to my application and in return for my dollar I received a printed slip, about 4 inches by 3 in size, with the picture of a man alighting from a hack with an open umbrella, which had got stuck fast in the door. Below the picture, which it was explained was purposely drawn out of perspective, were a few lines explaining that if a man would once impress the picture on his mind he would think of it every time he left a vehicle or car and would be prevented thereby from leaving his umbrella behind.

My indignation at this barefaced swindle was so great that what the advertiser advised actually happened. The incident and illustration both became so photographed in my mind's eye every time I carried an umbrella I thought of that absurd illustrator, and the dollar I thought thrown away has since saved me many dollars a year in umbrellas. The science of mnemonics is a very peculiar one, and few people understand it. Years ago it was common to tie a knot in one's handkerchief as a reminder of anything, and this plan has been improved upon from time to time. I have a friend who always hangs his hat on one peg in his office and has a small brass file just below the peg. By hanging loose memorandums on this file he can scarcely leave the office without being reminded of important duties or engagements.

Another man, who has no clock in his office, slips memorandums in his watch pocket, so that when he looks to see if it is time to go home he will also notice whether he has forgotten anything. The only duty which no one yet has been able to remember or to invent a scheme for is mailing a letter written by one's wife. The number of times a rational business man will carry a letter around in his pocket for over a week and then sneak quietly out and mail it in the corner letter box is something remarkable, and this unaccountable neglect of husbandlike duty accounts for no end of misunderstandings and broken friendships among the victims of this species of masculine carelessness.—Waverly Magazine.

His Honor Convinced.

It has not been so very long since the old English court rules passed out of observance, and when they were in vogue nowhere were they observed more strictly than in South Carolina. A rule provided that a lawyer when he spoke in court must wear a black gown and coat, and that the sheriff must wear a cocked hat and sword. On one occasion a lawyer named Pettigrue arose to speak in a case on trial.

"Mr. Pettigrue," said the judge, "you have on a light coat. You cannot speak, sir."

"Oh, your honor," Pettigrue replied, "may it please the court, I conform to the law."

"No, Mr. Pettigrue," declared the judge, "you have on a light coat. You cannot speak, sir."

"But, your honor," insisted the lawyer, "you misinterpret. Allow me to illustrate. The law says that the barrister must wear a black gown and coat, does it not?"

"Yes," replied the judge.

"And does your honor hold that it means that both gown and coat must be black?"

"Certainly, Mr. Pettigrue; certainly, sir," answered his honor.

"And the law further says," continued Mr. Pettigrue, "that the sheriff must wear a cocked hat and sword, does it not?"

"Yes, yes, Mr. Pettigrue," the court answered somewhat impatiently.

"And do you mean to say, your honor," questioned Pettigrue, "that the sword must be cocked as well as the hat?"

"Eh?—er—h'm," mused his honor. "You—er—continue your speech, Mr. Pettigrue." —Louisville Courier-Journal.

Natural Sanitary Agents.

There is no more effective sanitary agent than fire. The ancient who made his napkin of asbestus had but to throw it into the fire when soiled, and it could not be made cleaner. And could we but build our houses of incombustible materials the spring cleaning might be efficiently accomplished by incendiarism. London indeed was purified from a plague by a general conflagration. And almost the one thing which that nearly indestructible disease germ, the bacillus, cannot stand is heat.

But if heat is a great purifier cold is no less a preserver from decay. Amid the eternal snows of the arctic regions the unburied carcass may lie fresh and uncorrupt for months. The flesh of the mammoth, buried in the frozen soil of Siberia, has resisted decay for untold centuries, and here perhaps we have one of "nature's hints to inventors," for meat is now largely preserved by freezing.

Electricity is also a sanitary agent. When Professor Tyndall was experimenting with atmospheric dust in his classical researches on the origin of the lowest forms of life, he found that an electric discharge passed through a dusty atmosphere purified it by causing the minute particles to settle. And long before these researches it was commonly said and believed that a thunderstorm purified the air. Thus a scientific foundation is found for the popular belief, and the lightning flash takes its place as an accredited sanitary agency.—Chambers' Journal.

The Weather Forecast.

He entered the meteorological service office and said abruptly, "This 'ere's where you give out weather predictions, ain't it?"

The clerk nodded.

"Well," continued the old man, "I thought as how I could come up an give you some tips."

"Yes," said the clerk politely.

"Yes. I've figured on it a little, an I find that ye ain't al'ays right."

"No; we sometimes make mistakes."

"Course you do. We all do some time. Now, I was thinkin as how a line that used to be on the auction handbills down in our county might do fust rate on your weather predictions an save you a lot of explainin."

"What was the line?"

"Wind an weather permittin."

He went down without waiting to say goodby.—London Tit-Bits.

He Overdid It.

Beg'em (to himself)—I've got around that rich old grandaunt of mine at last. She's interested in benevolent schemes, and I'm helping her night and day to search out worthy objects. Today she said I'd have cause for rejoicing when her will was read.

His Grandaunt (to herself)—I had no idea my grandnephew was so good. It worries him almost sick to see so much misery in the world. How delighted he will be to find that all my money is to go to the support of the poor, friendless orphans!—New York Weekly.

What is

CASTORIA

Castoria is Dr. Samuel Pitcher's prescription for Infants and Children. It contains neither Opium, Morphine nor other Narcotic substance. It is a harmless substitute for Paregoric, Drops, Soothing Syrups, and Castor Oil. It is Pleasant. Its guarantee is thirty years' use by Millions of Mothers. Castoria destroys Worms and allays feverishness. Castoria prevents vomiting Sour Curd, cures Diarrhœa and Wind Colic. Castoria relieves teething troubles, cures constipation and flatulency. Castoria assimilates the food, regulates the stomach and bowels, giving healthy and natural sleep. Castoria is the Children's Panacea—the Mother's Friend.

Castoria.

"Castoria is an excellent medicine for children. Mothers have repeatedly told me of its good effect upon their children."
DR. G. C. OSGOOD,
Lowell, MASS.

"Castoria is the best remedy for children of which I am acquainted. I hope the day is not far distant when mothers will consider the real interest of their children, and use Castoria instead of the various quack nostrums which are destroying their loved ones, by forcing opium, morphine, soothing syrup and other hurtful agents down their throats, thereby sending them to premature graves."
DR. J. F. KINCHELOE,
Conway, Ark.

Castoria.

"Castoria is so well adapted to children that I recommend it as superior to any prescription known to me."
H. A. ARCHER, M. D.,
111 So. Oxford St., Brooklyn, N. Y.

"Our physicians in the children's department have spoken highly of their experience in their outside practice with Castoria, and although we only have among our medical supplies what is known as regular products, yet we are free to confess that the merits of Castoria has won us to look with favor upon it."

HOPE GIVEN UP.

It is Feared the Imprisoned Miners Will Starve to Death.

WILKESBARRE, February 14.—There is no change in the condition of things at the Gaylord mine in Plymouth up to this evening. The rescuing party who are working to reach the entombed timbermen are now clearing out the old man way that runs alongside of the plane which is filled with culm. When this can be cleared it will give the searching squads means of entering the breast which divides the Gaylord from No. 5 of the Delaware and Hudson colliery. Other men are at work boring their way through pillars in the mine with a hope of finding the men but up to 4 o'lcock this afternoon very little headway had been made. Some of the oldest miners in this valley shake their heads and say: "There is very little chance of finding the men alive if they are reached at all."

At 6 o'clock this evening the searching party which had been increased to 100 men were working against great difficulties. They were obliged to quit and hasten to the foot of the shaft on account of more "squeezing" in that portion of the mine where they had been at work.

The officials are very reticent, and have but little to say, but it has been made known by some of the rescuing party that over fifteen acres of the inside working of the Gaylord fell during to-day and more is likely to come down during to-night.

The surface in the neighborhood of the disaster is also beginning to crack and seams can now be seen fully eight inches in width. The old workings of the Parish colliery adjoining are also showing signs of weakness and a number of falis have occurred since this morning in this portion of the mine. The officials of the Delaware and Hudson Coal company, who are mining coal nearby, have taken every precantion to protect their portion of the mines so that no accidents will happen to them. The truth of the matter is that the rescuing party is having a hard time of it, and it looks as though they will never reach the men. At the office of the Kingston Coal company little or no information can be obtained.

Mine Inspector Williams, who returned from the Gaylord mine late to-night, says it will be several days before the rescuing party can reach the entombed men. They have over 300 feet of solid coal to drive through yet, and then the men may not be in the place where they expect to find them.

Germany had in 1895 7084 failures The United States had in the same year 10,-270. Remembering that the United States has a population considerably more than one-third larger, an aggregate wealth twice that of Germany and much more unstable business conditions, it must be considered surprising that Germany furnished 70 per cent. as many business casualties. The commercial pressure in Germany is also shown by the fact that failures in Germany increased 65 per cent. from 1885 to 1892. This was just about the increase here from 1887 to 1893. In Germany failures have risen steadily from 1881 to 1892, and this advance to figures which relatively more than equal the number of failures in this country is a remarkable proof of the terrible pressure of the present military establishment on German industry. A business failure means far greater disgrace and suffering in Germany than in this country, and when failures are actually more numerous there than here, relative to population and wealth, the German business situation is alone enough tc account for German unrest.

HIS NAME IS EMILE HENRY.

PARIS, Feb. 14.—In the extra edition. The Temps admits that the bomb thrower's name is not Emile Henry Breton, but simply Emile Henry. Police Commisary Bernard examined the records at the Sorbonne and found it to be true that Henry was graduated there in the department of sciences after winning a state schoolship. His father was a colonel of the Commune, was condemned to death, and was forced to flee for his life. He went to Spain with his wife and died there.

His wife returned to France with her sons, Emile and Fortune, and made her home in Brevannes, nineteen miles from Paris. She still keeps a little grocery store in that village. Her neighbors say that Emile was a quiet, well behaved boy when at home. He has not been in the village, however, for several years. Fortune, his brother, was regarded as the unruly and reckless member of the family. He is now serving a three years' term in Clairvaux prison for inciting to murder.

RELIEF FOR HICCOUGHS.

NEWARK, N, J., Feb. 14.—A successful operation was performed by Drs. Grube and Towle this morning upon John Carberry, who has been suffering from a severe attack of hiccoughs for the past eleven weeks. The toperation consisted of the removal of a portion of the inferior dental branch of the inferior maxilliary nerve, thus destroying the connection of nervous energy between the brain and the diaphragm. At the close of the operation he expressed himself as feeling greatly relieved, although his hiccoughs still continue in reduced energy. The doctors are highly pleased with their work and look for his speedy recovery.

NOT A SUICIDE.

PHILADELPHIA, Feb. 14.—The father of Benjamin F. Campbell, who was supposed to have committed suicide or to have been killed at Portland, Me., received a telegram from him to-day dated New York, stating he was all right; that he would probably be home to-night, and to pay no attention to stories published in the newspapers.

THE FRENCH TIMBUCTOO.

France has met at Timbuctoo the reverse which has always been confidently anticipated whenever the French advance either south from Algeria or east from Senegal met the great Touareg tribes of Berber origin who extend for a thousand miles along the comparatively elevated region which constitutes the southern edge of what is still called on our maps the Sahara.

Yet France must hold and occupy Timbuctoo and the region for 500 miles beyond if the ambitious project of making Northwest Africa French is carried out. This plan looks to a great band of French territory extending south from Algeria until it meets another coming east from Senegal, and Timbuctoo is near the angle where these will join. Once joined Morocco and the region about it will be hemmed in by French territory.

The progress from the coast of Senegal inland has been hitherto comparatively easy because there are only negro tribes. The progress south from Algeria is harder because the Touarega are met earlier. In neither direction has France desired to bring on a conflict, but the praise lavished on Lieutenant Caron when he ran his gunboat up to Timbuctoo six years ago has rendered every French officer willing to risk much to enter the city. Now that it is entered it will be held and the river Niger makes this easy. But the city itself is not what it once was. Dismantled in 1826, when it was captured by the Touaregs, it has since been not a capital but a trading city, through which pass the most important caravan routes of the Western Soudan.

As foreshadowed by the publications growing out of the deaths of Mr. Drexel and Mr. Childs, the Ledger, as it now announces, has passed under the absolute ownership of the Drexel estate and the editorial and business management of Mr. George W, Childs Drexel. In honor of Mr. Childs and his great work in the upbuilding of the paper his name is still continued under the title as "editor and proprietor from 1864 to 1894." The change of direction, as is stated, involves no change in the character and policy of the paper. Mr. Drexel who now assumes full control has the advantage of close association with Mr. Childs during the later months of his life and brings to his new responsibility earnest purpose and sound training. He will be cordially welcomed to the great trust which falls to his hand.

ELETION INSTRUCTIONS.

HARRISBURG, Feb. 14.—The secretary of the commonwealth has sent the following to county commissioners: "Referring to the act of assembly of Jan. 30, 1893, section 22, (P. L 42) and to the act of assembly of June 10, 1893, section 1, (P. L. 49) the attention of county commissioners is hereby called to the fact that it is their duty in preparing blanks made necessary by the act of 1874 and the act of 1873, to be printed or written upon return sheets, tally sheets, etc., the names of all candidates placed in nomination by certificates of nomination or nomination papers, together with the party or policy which each candidate represents.

"The names of the candidates should be printed or written upon such return sheets, tally sheets, etc., in the same order in which they will appear upon the official ballot.

LARGE LOSS OF LIFE.

BERLIN, Feb. 14.—The hurricane that swept over the northern part of Germany has caused large loss of life. Six fishing boats belonging to Rinderort,' a small village on the Baltic Sea, were lost in the storm and twenty-two men on board of them were drowned.

Eighty craft of various descriptions were sunk in the river Elbe.

Advices from Altona, on the Elbe, a little below Hamburg, show that eleven persons were drowned there. Eight foresters were killed in the woods near Cegenort, in Pomerania, by trees that were blown down by the storm falling upon them.

MASONS IN SESSION.

HARRISBURG, Pa., February 15.—It was 1 this morning when the important concocation of royal and select masters of Free and Accepted Masons adjourned. These officers were elected for the ensuing year: Grand Master, Joel S. Eaby, Lancaster; deputy grand master, William T. Carson, Norristown; illustrious grand master, H. McKillips, Bloomsburg; grand principal conductor of work, Thomas Milsbough, Williamsport; grand treasurer, James Brown, Pittsburg; grand recorder, Joshua A. Lyte, Lancaster. There were representatives of the higher Masonic bodies from many cities of the state.

—Kessler & Zeigler's store on Main street was closed by Sheriff Condo yesterday. Mr. Kessler, the senior member of the firm having been arrested on a serious charge and in default of bail for his appearance at court was taken to Bellefonte to await trial in jail. The affair created quite a sensation in town and our people are beginning to deplore the frequent official visits of the sheriff to this borough.—Millheim Journal.

WENT THROUGH STORMS.

The Steamer Barcelona Has a Rough Experience.

HALIFAX, February 14,—At noon Today the steamer Barcelona, Captain Campbell arrived at St. Johns, N. F. The run up from there was rough and considerable ice was met with, large patches of it extending along the Nova Scotia coast. The steamer's passage from Liverpool to St. Johns occupied twenty-one days and the captain says it was a continuation of gales—in fact hurricanes of winds and heavy seas from the time of leaving port until the anchor was dropped. Seas of enormous height swept over the ship, advancing like mighty cliffs, and but for the fact that the Barcelona is such a good sea boat, she would scarcely have lived through the storms. Her deck was swept continually, one sea taking the second mate almost over the side. He caught a line and managed to save himself. The captain sustained an injury to his leg. No cooking could be done from the time the vessel left port until she got within 300 miles of this coast, and it was impossible to pass between decks at times. The alleyways were waist deep in water.

Life lines had to be carried all through her to enable the men to work. One sea broke over her, staving in the life boats and breaking one completely, carrying off the skylight of the engine room and the cook's ventilator and nearly taking the funnel in its course. Then the steering gear broke, the steel wire snapped like pack thread. This was quickly repaired and the ship escaped injury which might have risen from her being uncontrollable. As the days wore on with no decrease in the storm the fuel became scarce and the provisions began to get low. Oil in the cargo was taken for fuel, even waste was burned. Five hundred miles off the Newfoundland coast she struck ice and passed through large quantities of heavy sheets which extended nearly to the shore. During the storm the cargo shifted and a number of packages were smashed to atoms. The officers and crew are all badly used up.

WHEN WAR IS DECLARED

Against a man's happiness by his stomach, the enemy may be pacified and brought speedily and easily to terms. That potent regulator of digestion, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, disciplines the rebellious organ thoroughly. Indigestion arises from weakness of the stomach, and the food in it, for want of the power to digest, decomposes and acidfies, giving rise to heartburn, flatulence and pain, besides a multitude of symptoms both changeful and perplexing. But peace soon reigns when the great stomachic is resorted to and used with persistence. Dyspepsia gives rise to morbid discompoeure of mind, and even sleeplessness and hypochondria in chronic cases. To the complete dismissal of these the Bitters is fully adequate. Liver complaint, constipation, debility, rheumatism and malaria are completely subdued by this genial medicine.

FROZEN TO DEATH

HUNTINGDON, Pa., February 14.—Another warning to drunkards comes from Entriken, this county. John K. Johnson, a married man and the father of four children, came to Huntingdon Tuesday and after attending to some business matters proceeded to get drunk and his efforts were successful. At Entriken Johnson had purchased a round trip ticket, but when he boarded the train here for the purpose of returning home he was unable to find that very necessary piece of paper. Naturally he was ejected from the train at the next station which was McConnellstown. From there he started to walk home, a distance of eight or nine miles, but when he reached Grafton several persons took him in charge and placed him in a stable. In the morning he was found almost frozen to death, and despite the efforts of physicians he died at 3 o'clock this morning.

When Baby was sick, we gave her Castoria.
When she was a Child, she cried for Castoria.
When she became Miss, she clung to Castoria.
When she had Children, she gave them Castoria.

ANOTHER BLOW.

EASTON, Pa., Feb., 14.—Lehigh Valley strikers hereabouts have received another blow. The Lehigh Valley Relief association, the accidental insurance of which the employes of the Lehigh Valley are members, has refused payment of benefits to several injured men because they were in the strike. There are several injured employes at the Easton Hospital. One of them, William Strouse, of Philipsburg, who was injured a month ago, made the usual application for relief money—three fourths pay while off duty—and was surprised to receive an answer that when he went out on strike he ceased to be a member of the relief association. The association, just previous to the strike, made the usual assessment of a day's wages—$1.80 for brakemen—receiving Strouse's with the rest.

FARMER TAGGART'S DEATH.

NORRISTOWN, Feb. 15.—Austin L. Taggart, Representative from Montgomery county, died at his residence at King of Prussia at 4 o'clock this afternoon.

Mr. Taggart's death was caused by grip, complicated with kidney and stomach trouble. He was born in November, 1836, at Tamaqua. He leaves a widow and eight children—four sons and four daughters.

TOBACCO HABIT EASILY CURED.
A FEW Testimonials from persons who have been cured by the use of Hill's Tablets.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.: DEAR SIR:—I have been using your cure for tobacco habit, and found it would do what you claim for it. I used ten cents worth of the strongest chewing tobacco a day, and from one to five cigars; or I would smoke from ten to forty pipes of tobacco. Have chewed and smoked for twenty-five years, and two packages of your Tablets cured me so I have no desire for it.

THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—Some time ago I sent for $1.00 worth of your Tablets for Tobacco Habit. I received them all right and, although I was both a heavy smoker and chewer, they did the work in less than three days. I am cured.
Truly yours, MATHEW JOHNSON, P. O. Box 45.
Pittsburgh, Pa.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO.:—GENTLEMEN:—It gives me pleasure to speak a word of praise for your Tablets. My son was strongly addicted to the use of liquor, and through a friend, I was led to try your Tablets. He was a heavy and constant drinker, but after using your Tablets but three days he quit drinking, and will not touch liquor of any kind. I have waited four months before writing you, in order to know the cure was permanent. Yours truly,
MRS. HELEN MORRISON.
Cincinnati, Ohio.
THE OHIO CHEMICAL CO:—GENTLEMEN:—Your Tablets have performed a miracle in my case. I have used morphine, hypodermically, for seven years, and have been cured by the use of two packages of your Tablets, and without any effort on my part. W. L. LOTZ.

—Sheriff Condo has now seventeen boarders in the county jail.

—Mr. Lee B. Woodcock has turned composer. His "first-born" is now for sale at Bush's and is entitled the "Orange Bowen Dance."

—The Harmon child at the Bellefonte poor house is so far improved now that he can be dressed. There is promise of a complete recovery.

—And now Lock Haven is advocating a central state base ball league. After the way that town acted last season it ought to advocate something.

—Philipsburg is elated over the fact that T. Barnes & Brother have found a six-foot vein of solid cannel coal on their property just outside the borough limits.

—Thursday was pay day on the Central railroad of Pennsylvania, and the pay car made the trip over the line from Bellefonte to Mill Hall and return in the morning.

—Mrs. J. A. Aikens is getting up a musical entertainment to be given in the Presbyterian church in the near future. It gives every promise of being a grand affair.

—Mrs. Solomon Ettlinger, a former resident of Centre county, died in Union county on the 8th. Her remains were brought to Woodward for interment on Saturday, the 10th.

—Mrs. Neff, wife of Mr. Lafayette Neff, of Centre Hall, died on Monday, after a lingering illness, and was buried yesterday. She was the mother of Prof. C R Neff, principal of the Milleheim schools, and died at an advanced age.

—It has been settled that the Demorests ball club of Williamsport will not join the state league, preferring to cast her lot with the river league organization, where the expenses are more to the team's taste and the guarantees not so heavy.

—It is now twelve days or more since the last case of smallpox has developed at Tyrone Forges, and the residents of that section feel much encouraged with the hope that the dread disease is checked and will soon be stamped out.

—Since January 1, 1894, the length of the days has increased sixteen minutes and by the end of the month will be ten hours long. The lengthening of the days during the progress of winter is easily discernible by those who are close observers of such matters.

—Mr. Hiram Lee and Mary A. Decker, both of Potter township, were married on Tuesday evening, the 13th inst., at the residence of the bride's father. Rev. James W. Boal performing the ceremony. The young couple were the recipients of many handsome presents.

—Don't forget that good turkey dinner that is to be served next Thursday in the Gregg Post rooms. Also, that a restaurant will be kept open all afternoon and evening, and that a fine oyster supper will be served. During the afternoon and evening a musical concert will be given by Meyer's Orchestra.

—On Tuesday evening the Bellefonte Wheelmen elected as their officers for the ensuing year, Mortimer Donohue, president; Robert Hunter, captain; Frank Rhoads, treasurer; Thomas Mitchell, secretary; and Ed. F. Garman, local consul. After the election the new officers invited the boys around to Ceaders' and treated to the oysters.

—On Wednesday Major William Duffin solemnized the wedding of William H. Arndt of Middletown, and Miss Jennie Jacob of Tyrone, according to the rites of the Amercian Salvation Army. The ceremony took place in the Farmers' market house, Middletown, in the presence of about 1,000 persons. The happy couple were attired in the army uniform.

A STRANGE CASE.

How an Enemy was Foiled.

The following graphic statement will be read with intense interest: "I cannot describe the numb, creepy sensation that existed in my arms, hands and legs. I had to rub and beat those parts until they were sore, to overcome in a measure the dead feeling that had taken possession of them. In addition, I had a strange weakness in my back and around my waist, together with an indescribable 'gone' feeling in my stomach. Physicians said it was creeping paralysis, from which, according to their universal conclusion, there is no relief. Once it fastens upon a person, they say, it continues its insidious progress until it reaches a vital point and the sufferer dies. Such was my prospect. I had been doctoring a year and a half steadily, but with no particular benefit, when I saw an advertisement of Dr Miles' Restorative Nervine, procured a bottle and began using it. Marvelous as it may seem, but a few days had passed before every bit of that creepy feeling had left me, and there has not been even the slightest indication of its return. I now feel as well as I ever did, and have gained ten pounds in weight, though I had run down from 170 to 137. Four others have used Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine on my recomendation, and it has been as satisfactory in their cases as in mine."—James Kane, La Rue, O.

Dr. Miles' Restorative Nervine is sold by all druggists on a positive guarantee, or sent direct by the Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind., on receipt of price, $1 per bottle, six bottles for $5, express prepaid. It is free from opiates or dangerous drugs.

PHILIPSBURG'S EXPECTATIONS.

Railroad Connection with Altoona, Johnstown and Pittsburg.

From Monday's Philipsburg Journal: "Mr. S. P. Langdon, manager and one of the principal owners of the Altoona & Philipsburg railroad, in connection with Superintendent Forsythe, of the "Wopsy" railroad, and several other railroad dignitaries, were in Philipsburg on Saturday and made their first trip over the Altoona & Philipsburg road as far as the Mapleton branch, a distance of over three miles. The trip was made in the handsome new coaches of the campany, a goodly number of our citizens accompanying the party, among whom was Mr. G. M. Case, assistant general passenger agent of the Beech Creek railroad company. The trip was a pleasant and very satisfactory one, the smoothness of the road being specially noticeable.

"The work of extending the road on to Heverly, where it will connect with the 'Wopsy,' is proceeding vigorously at this time. The road is finished as far as Ramey. The distance from Ramey to Heverly is eight miles, and when the road is completed to that point, we shall have splendid connections with our Altoona friends.

"The road will without a doubt, from what was told us by a prominent railroad official on Saturday, be extended to Johnstown, where connection will be made with the Baltimore & Ohio railroad, giving us a direct line to Pittsburg, in which event we have been assured Philipsburg will be on the main line, and a very important centre."

MINE WORKERS RESOLVE.

Wednesday was the second day's session of the delegates of district No. 2, United Mine Workers of America in Altoona. As on Tuesday, the sessions were held in the Steehle block, and they were of an interesting character. The convention upheld Sovereign, master workman of the Knights of Labor, in his stand taken regarding the issuing of bonds by Secretary Carlisle. The wage question was discussed, and the concensus of opinion was that the old wages should be paid. The books were audited, and the organization was found to be in good financial condition. The election of officers will take place today. It was developed that since December 27 there had been 4,000 miners who joined the association, and the only trouble experienced was to obtain organizers.

The following resolutions were passed:

Whereas, The operators of the district have by means that are dishonorable and unjust procured the unlawful system of paying monthly instead of semi-monthly; therefore be it.

Resolved, That it is the sentiment of this convention that every lawful effort should be resorted to stamp out this disgraceful system, which is bringing misery and ruin to thousands of workingmen's homes and driving many of our craftsmen out of employment, who refuse to give up the rights given them by the laws of the state, and thus violate the laws enacted for their protection.

Resolved, That we appeal to the miners throughout the district to use all lawful means in their power, and call upon the factory inspector to prosecute those who are grossly violating it, and we further solicit the aid of every law-abiding citizen in our effort to maintain the law and stamp out forever the monthly pay system, which is an injury to every independent and honest enterprise.

THE WAY TO TELL THEM.

If you watch the way in which people pass through the door at the post office you will be able to form a pretty good idea of their character. The man or woman who is always thoughtful of the rights of others never pushes the door violently open nor allows it to slam in the face of anyone who is following. The heedless person who is heedless because he is too selfish to think of others slams through the door in a hit or miss way, careless whether he pushes it against or slams it in front of a man or woman. If he half knocks someone over he may be decent enough to beg pardon or express regret, but he will forget all about it next time and go through the door as if there was not another person but himself in all the world.

WILL IT BE FORTNEY?

The Centre Democrat this morning says: The latest reports from Washington, D. C., where they make and unmake great men, is that Congressman Kribbs, representing this district, has announced his intention of recommending D. F. Fortney, Esq., of this place, for the postmastership of Bellefonte. At the beginning of the present administration the precedent was established that, in all cases, the recommendations of congressmen, for postmasters in their district, would stand. Under these circumstances it seems safe to predict the above appointment, unless some unusual exceptions are made.

CLEARFIELD STANDS THIRD.

In 1880 Clearfield county was fifth in producing bituminous coal with an output of 1,722,711 tons. Cambria county was fourteenth, with 590,075 tons. In 1892 Clearfield gained third place with 6,876,785 tons, and Cambria bobbed up to sixth place with 3,086,554 tons. It is hard to tell what the future has in store for Clearfield and Cambria counties in coal developments.

TWO RETURNS TO BE MADE.

At the coming election the return judge of each precinct must make two returns, one of the vote for congressman-at-large and the other vote for the local candidates. In the first instance the return must be made to the prothonotary and in person; in the other instance the return can be made in the ordinary manner to the clerk of the courts.

IMPORTANT ARREST.

Thursday's Philipsburg Journal says:—On January 5th Mr. D. Abramson, of this city, had stolen from him near Glen Richey a satchel containing watches, chains, rings and other jewelry to the value of $150. On Tuesday of this week he succeeded in getting a clue to at least a portion of the stolen goods, and with the assistance of Constable Andrew Millwood, of Chester Hill, arrested Daniel Kline, of Glen Richey, and John Kline and John Smeal, of Sanborn, supposed to be the guilty parties in connection with the affair. The defendants were brought to Chester Hill and given a hearing last evening before Edward Gearhart, justice of the peace. The hearing began at 7 o'clock and lasted until 11:30, and was a very interesting occasion. The commonwealth was represented by W. D. Crosby, of this city, and the defendants had to plead their cause Attornies Oscar Mitchell and W. A. Chase, of Clearfield. After carefully hearing the proofs and allegations the justice was satisfied that there was sufficient evidence to hold all the defendants either as principals, accessories, or on the charge of receiving stolen goods. The bail in each case was placed at $300

Daniel Kline, Sr., father of the Klines entered bail for the appearance of the latter at the next term of Clearfield county court. Smeal, unable to secure bail, was held in custody until this morning, when he was taken to Clearfield jail.

A SMALL TRAVELER.

Among the passengers arriving in Williamsport on Erie mail Wednesday morning was a bright-faced little tot of six years named Mary Braine, who is now with her aunt, Mrs. Mary Braine, 931 West Third street. She had completed a journey of 1,500 miles from Eldorado, Kas., to this city without mishap, except to be delayed about twenty-four hours near Chicago by heavy snows. A little tag fastened to her coat told her destination, and through the careful attention of the railway officials of the Santa Fe and Pennsylvania railroads nothing waswanting to make the long, monotonous trip as enjoyable as possible.

Her mother died about one year ago. She had previously requested that her little daughter be sent to this city to the care of her aunt. Owing to the straitened circumstances of Mr. Braine, the desire could not be fulfilled until recently when through friends, the arrangements were completed.

There is more catarrh in this section of the country than all other diseases put together, and untill the last few years was supposed to be incurable. For a great many years doctors pronounced it a local disease, and prescribed local remedies, and by constantly failing to cure with local treatment, pronounced it incurable. Science has proven catarrh to be a constitutional disease and therefore requires constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure, manufactured by Cheney & Co Toledo, Ohio, is the only constitutional cure on the market. It is taken internally in doses from 10 drops to a teaspoonful. It acts directly on the blood and mucous surfaces of the system. They offer one hundred dollars for any case it fails to cure. Send for circulars and testimonials. Address,

THOSE CAR WORKS.

It has taken a couple of our contemporaries just two weeks to find out the mistake they made in announcing that the Lamokin Car works would locate in Newark, N. J., a fact that the DAILY NEWS denied at the time. The truth of the matter is Bellefonte's chances are now, and always have been, very good for securing this establishment. Some of the company are expected here in the very near future and a more definite decision can then be given. In the meantime, it is well to believe the best possible for Bellefonte.

ANOTHER STORM.

On Wednesday evening about 8 o'clock snow again commenced to fall and it continued all night without intermission and this morning about eight inches of "the beautiful" added their depth to that already down and now there must be a total of near twenty inches of snow. This will be good for the farmer, the lumberman, and last but by no means the least the lovers. Every person who can should take advantage of the snow at once, as there is no telling how long it will last.

THE EQUINE PARADOX.

There was a large audience present in Garman's opera house Wednesday evening to witness the wonderful performance of Bartholomew's pets, twenty-four horses, almost humanly trained, doing everything they were told and some things they were not; performing feats that would be difficult for a human being and throughout the entire performance creating wonder in the minds of those present as to how an animal could be so trained.

MARRIED.

Married by Alderman John W. Harris, at his office in Lock Haven, on Tuesday, February 13, Charles A. Dolan to Mary C. McDowell, both of Marion township, Centre county.

THE MINERS ADJOURN.

The sessions of the convention of delegates of district No. 2, United Mine Workers of America, were concluded yesterday. The convention convened on Tuesday, and the deliberations of the body extended over two and a half days. A great deal of important work was transacted. District Master Workman T. A. Bradley presided, and T. R. Davis, secretary-treasurer, took down the official proceedings.

Among the important resolutions passed in addition to those published yesterday, was one in which local strikes were deprecated, but the convention agreed to the calling of a general strike by all the miners in the country as soon as possible. The time for said strike to be fixed by the national board officers.

A resolution was also passed favoring the discussion of the labor question in a radical manner by the local assemblies.

The election of officers resulted as follows: District master workman, Thomas A. Bradley, of Lilly, Cambria county; vice president, J. V. Henderson, of Houtzdale, Clearfield county; secretary-treasurer, T. R. Davis, Horatio, Jefferson county. These three, together with William Dugan, of Osceola Mills, Clearfield county, and Frank Richardson, of Hastings, Cambria county, (both elected yesterday) constitute the executive board of the district.

The convention adjourned finally to meet in Altoona on the second Tuesday of February, 1895. After the adjournment the secret branch of the district went into session and discussed various matters concerning the good of the Knights of Labor.

—After a brief visit with friends in Lock Haven, Miss Mary Tate has returned to her home in this place.

—The republicans of Howard and vicinity held a ratification meeting on Friday. Resolutians were passed condemning the Wilson bill, the pension policy and things in general.

—Miss Julia, the little daughter of Mr. William McClellan, who was so ill with pneumonia a few days ago that her life was despaired of, is we are glad to say, slowly recovering.

—Fred Weddigen, an insurance agent of Williamsport, while on a hunting trip through Nippenose Valley, the other day, shot and killed a white fox. This is considerable of a curiosity and Mr. Weddigen will likely have it stuffed and mounted.

—A valued exchange has raised the question: "Are our small toes disappearing?" When this question has been satisfactorily settled it will be in order to ask: "Is the modern nose growing smaller?" These pertinent queries will somewhat relieve the monotony of the old, time-worn interrogation, "Is marriage a failure?"

—A large sled load of young people went to Zion on Friday evening, to the home of Mr. Henry J. Garbrick, where they had a most delightful time, eating, dancing and in social games. The kind host and hostess were lavish in their entertainment. If was three o'clock this morning when the party arrived in Bellefonte.

—The Bellwood Methodist church will celebrate its semi-centennial by jubilee services from the 22nd to the 25th of February, inclusive. Many former pastors will be present and every effort will be put forth to make the occasion memorable. Rev. W. A. Houck, of Bellefonte, will be present and preach the sermon Saturday morning, the 24th, at 10 o'clock.

SIX THOUSANDS CREAMERIES.

Eastburn Reeder, state dairy and food Commissioner, has filed with Secretary Harrity a statement which shows that there are 600 creameries in Pennsylvania and 1,800,000 acres of land devoted to the dairy interest. The capital interested is $159,000,000 and the annual worth of butter in the state is $20,000,000.

—Remember the concert of Meyers orchestra at Gregg Post rooms Thursday evening.

—It is now about settled that the Pennsylvania national guardsmen will encamp at Gettysburg this year.

—One reckless and ignorant brawler can do more harm in an hour than a score of wise men can repair in a year.

—The Blair County Banking company, of Tyrone, has moved into its elegant new building on Pennsylvania avenue and Tenth street.

—"Enemies for Life," drew but a small audience on Monday evening. With a fair house the play might have been creditable.

—Mr. Jacob Shultz, who lives below town about three miles on the Jacksonville road, is at the point of death with La grippe.

—Work is rapidly progressing on the tearing down of the ruins of the old Conrad block, preparatory to building a fine large structure.

—Monday was warm and bright with sunshine; Monday night it rained and this morning it was cold and frosty. How's that for sudden changes?

—Friday's Philipsburg Journal says: District Attorney William J. Singer, accompanied by his wife, came over on the morning train to spend the day with the family of Mr. John Rayhorn. Mr R. is married to a sister of Mr. S.

—Rev. McKinley, of Clearfield, preached in the Presbyterian church both morning and evening on Sunday and to large audiences. Mr. McKinley is a forcible, logical speaker and his eloquent discourses were much enjoyed by those who heard them.

—Spigelmyers have rented the house now occupied by Robert McCalmont and his sister, and will move there the first of April. Engineer Lonesbury, of the Central railroad, will then occupy the house in which Mr. Spigelmyer and family now reside.

—Wasn't Sunday a lovely day? Commencing as it did with the thermometer about 30 degrees above zero, it grew warmer and wrmer until the mercury was about fifty. The snow melted and the waters raised but notwithstanding this, the day was a nice one,

—The many friends of the wife of Rev. J. H. McGarrah, of York, formerly of this place, will regret to learn of that lady's very serious illness, her condition being such as to give very little hope of her recovery. It is to be hoped, however, that she may rally and again be able to be around.

—Hon. James P Coburn, of Aaronsburg, is interested in the development of the new town of Huston, in Nittany Valley, on the line of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania. It is midway between Lock Haven and Bellefonte and is the centre of rich deposits of iron ore. Mr. Coburn's energy will doubtless make it boom.

—Next Monday, February 26th, the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania will begin carrying the United States Mail from Bellefonte down through Nittany valley to Mill Hall and to connect with the Beech Brook. At this writing the postal clerk has not yet been appointed. So far as known there is but one applicant, Mr. Will Garman.

—We are in receipt of an invitation from the Mifflinburg M. E. church, Rev. Isaac Heckman pastor, to be present at the dedicatory services of the new church recently erected at that place, which will take place Sunday, February 25th, 1894. Bishop Cyrus D. Foss, D. D., L. L. D., and Rev E. J. Gray, D. D., will have charge of the services. Former pastors who are living have been invited and are expected to be present.

—The Philipsburg Ledger notes the return to that town of Holler Warfel who has been West for 24 years. He enlisted as a scout under Reno and had considerable fun fighting Indians on the Little Big Horn river. He was along with Reno when he went to look for Custer and in a battle with the reds had his left leg broken, his right arm broken in two places, the little finger of his left hand shot off and a bullet ploughed through the top of his head. His closest friends hardly recognized him when he returned, so great was the change.

—Sunday March 11 bids fair to be an important day in Bellefonte. It will be the last Sunday for Rev. W. A. Houck in town and also the occasion of an immense union service under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. At that service there will be State Secretary Hurlburt; Mr. Miller of Tyrone, and Mr. McConchy of Wrightsville. The last mentioned gentleman is an evangelist, a thorough Bible student and a man of much force. He is expected to remain in Bellefonte a couple of weeks to conduct Bible and evangelistic meetings.

MONDAY NIGHT'S SESSION.

A Long Session—Considerable Business—Numerous Bills—A Banquet and Good Time Generally.

The borough council of 1893 have held many long sessions strictly in the interest of the borough's business and the interest of the tax payers, but the session of Monday night was by far the longest although not entirely devoted to business. Every member of council with the exception of Mr. Bush was in his place by the regularly appointed time, but, owing to the long list of bills to make out and approve it was eight o'clock and after when President George L. Potter called council to order and clerk Isaac Mitchell read the minutes of the previous session which were approved as read.

There were quite a number of important spectators present and, under the head of verbal communications Supt. J. W. Gephart appeared and asked permission of council to extend a side track from the present turn table of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania south east across Lamb street to get to the electric light plant, for the purpose of delivering to said company coal by the car. Work had been commenced on this tiding some days ago but by notice of one of the members of council it was discontinued until the affair was brought before that body. Mr. Gephart in supporting his request took the broad ground of general advantage to the town to allow such extensions to be made whenever and wherever demanded and desired. He said that it might not be long until they would want to run a track right up Lamb street to get to the steam heat works; another across Spring creek to Gerberick & Hale's mill and Mr. Crider's lumber yard; and perhaps at no far distant day would want to come right on up Water street to get to the Phoenix planing mill, the Valentine furnace, and that section of the town, and he believed it was for the best interests of all that such permits be granted. Mr. Gephart also asked permission to store oil and waste in the railroad company's oil house north of Lamb street. In answer council most emphatically gave Mr. Gephart to understand that they were opposing nothing but only desired permission to be asked so that some official action could be taken and the same appear on the minutes for reference and the instruction of future councils. On motion of Mr. Miller seconded by Mr. Garman Mr. Gephart was given permission to lay the side track to the electric light plant, also one up Lamb street to the steam heat works whenever desired. On motion of Mr. Miller seconded by Mr. Hillibish he was also given permission to store waste and oil in the house designated.

A written communication was read from residents on Allegheny street complaining of the gaseous condition of the sewer at the alley next the residence of L. T. Munson. Mr. Miller, on behalf of residents of Curtin street, complained of the lack of proper boardwalk facilities on the south side of that thoroughfare. Both the above matters were referred to the Street committee for investigation and report.

Mr. Miller made complaint of a nuisance being created on Water street by parties on Spring street dumping their ashes and refuse down over the hill. Mr. Gerberich also complained of a nuisance at the houses on North Water street. The matters were referred to the Nuisance committee with power to have them abated at once.

The Street, Water, Market and Finance committees had no special reports to make. The Fire and Police committee reported the hose sent away for repair as returned in good condition, also that the Logan Fire company had taken charge of the property of the late Coronet Hook and Ladder Company and had the same put in good condition; also that the Chief Fire Marshall and assistants had been sworn into office. This concluded the general business and the following bills were then approved and the clerk instructed to draw the necessary orders for their payment:

Before adjournment Mr. Miller took the opportunity to say that as that was the last regular meeting at which they would all gather, and in honor of their President, Mr. Potter who this spring will retire from council, the members, wishing to show their full appreciation, had provided a "little" feast and that all persons were invited around to Ceaders, and to be there promptly at 9 o'clock. As that time was near at hand council adjourned to meet in special session the first Monday in March at 9 o'clock a. m.

IN THE BANQUET HALL.

The scene is shifted. From the business like air of the council chamber, at a very few minutes past 9 o'clock the members of that august body found themselves in the elegant dining parlors of Cedar's restaurant, seated around a handsomely decorated table and all prepared to give themselves entirely to the pleasure of the occasion. The group around the table numbered an even fourteen. Member S. H. Williams presided at the head of the festive board. To his right sat the guest of the evening, Mr. George L. Potter, then followed in succession Geo. R. Meek, of the Watchman, councilmen C. T. Gerberich, and Al. S. Garman; C. L. Gates, of the DAILY NEWS, and council's clerk Mr. Isaac Mitchell. To the left of Mr. Williams sat the borough solicitor, Clement Dale, Esq., then Chas. R. Kurtz, of the Centre Democrat; councilmen W. T. Hillibish and John C Miller, J. A. Fiedler, of the Gazette, and Dr. R. L. Dartt; while the other end of the table was most ably taken care of by Mr. Bauer. With his usual promptness and efficiency, Caterer Ceaders and his charming waitresses served the good things prepared which made up the following menu:

Bullion

Chicken Croquettes — French peas.
Turkey. — Cranberry sauce.
Potatoes. — Scalloped Oysters.
Lettuce. — Olives

Sherbert.

Strawberry Cream a la blocks.
Pound Cake — Fruit Cake.
Nut Cake — Lady fingers.
Macaroons — Kisses. — Sand tarts.
Cocoanut drops.
Fruits. — Coffee.
Cigars.

And here again was displayed the wisdom of the Bellefonte voters when they elected these men to serve them as councilmen. For not only do they know what is right and stick up for it; how to make laws and make them; how to transact business and do it; but they all know how to eat and they done it. And the most remarkable thing in the whole procedure was the fact that the smallest man always got the fullest plate and ate it down the quickest and cleanest; but then a small man must have a big something if it is an appetite. However, without exception, every man around the board did full justice to the elegant repast spread before him.

When the cigars were passed around Mr. Williams, as toastmaster, proposed as a toast "Our Guest—Mr. Geo. L. Potter, President of the Council of 1893," and asked member Miller to respond. Now Mr. Miller is nothing if not accommodating and, had it not been for the thunderous applause that greeted him as he arose, he might yet be speaking. But that kind of disconcerted him, and he missed the opportunity of his lifetime. However, he fully made up for it before the evening was over. Mr. Potter responded to Mr. Miller's toast in a few brief remarks, thanking his fellow councilmen for that display of their appreciation of his work among them. Mr. Dale responded to the toast "Our Future." In his mind's eye he pictured what Bellefonte would be in a few years hence when we shall have spread out and absorbed Milesburg, Coleville and Zion; with steam rollers always at work making streets; hundreds of arc lights illuminating our thoroughfares at night; the cow banished entirely from the sacred precincts of the city and boardwalks built all along Spring creek. When Mr. Miller shall be a Milli(on)aire; Mr. Bauer, the John Wanamaker of our city and Mr Gerberich, like "Old Hutch," of Chicago (Busted, says Miller). And so on Mr Dale complimented each in turn, even the newspaper men, and lastly complimented all on the handsome spread of the evening.

"Our streets—how they can be made better and benefited without the use of a steam street roller," was proposed for Dr. Dartt, but the doctor was too full for utterance. Other toasts proposed were "Our Financial Condition," Mr. C. T. Gerberich. "The Fire Department," Mr. Al. S. Garman. "Our Markets," Mr. Bauer. This gentleman had also tasted too heavily of the fruits of "our markets" and he, too, begged to be excused. At this juncture, however, Mr. John C. Miller embraced the opportunity to give more of his speech. The members of the press were then called on and each in turn responded in a few fitting remarks. Next toastmaster Williams, himself, occupied a few minutes in making the speech of the evening, after which clerk Isaac Mitchell was called on for a few remarks. Mr. Mitchell said that he had been clerk of council for seventeen years and he could truly and conscientiously say that the council of 1893 was the best of the seventeen he had attended. At the conclusion of Mr. Mitchell's remarks Hon. Councilman Mr. John C. Miller made the concluding section of his address which was a great relief to himself as well as those present. Toastmaster Williams then announced that there was yet plenty of time for impromptu remarks, if anybody had anything to say. Immediately there were calls for the Right Honorable Councilman, Mr. John C. Miller, the great cow—boardwalk—electric light agitator of the North Ward. Mr. Miller arose—so did all the rest and the room was soon deserted, and thus ended one of the most social gatherings the council of 1893 ever had together.

THE COUNCIL OF 1893.

In retrospect we look back over the year 1893 and see just what the Bellefonte council done. Twenty-thousand dollars borough bonds were paid; one hundred thousand dollars worth of bonds were refunded at 4 per cent., which had been drawing 7 per cent. interest. Every department of the borough administration has been run as thorough and successfully, at less expense, than in past years; the cows have been banished from our streets; we now have the all-night light, and, in addition, the council has shown such a public spiritedness as to make any improvement, meet any demand and consider any fair question or proposition that is for the good or advantage of Bellefonte, its citizens and their interests. They have shown their large heartedness and at the same time retained a controlling hold on the purse strings of the borough treasury. Of them much good can be said; for them there is no cause for any condemnation. It is to be hoped that the council of 1894 will prove as wise and efficient as the council of 1893.

ABSOLUTELY PURE

LAST SATURDAY'S EXCURSION.

What It Means to the Business Men of Bellefonte.

A NEWS reporter this morning called at the offices of the Central Railroad of Pennsylvania and asked how many people took advantage of Saturday's excursion to Bellefonte. He was given the list of ticket sales:

From Mill Hall, 124; Salona, 134; Mackeyville, 67; Clintondale and Kriders, 85; Lamar, 124; Huston, 36; Nittany, 75; Hublersburg, 100; Zion, 74; Snydertown, Hecla and Nigh, 120, a total of 939.

This number represented the actual sale of excursion tickets and, with the exception of probably twenty-five or thirty persons, they were all residents of Nittany valley, who live and have their homes between Bellefonte and Mill Hall. There is no comment necessary on the crowd, the generosity of the railroad company in giving the excursion, etc., only to say that the entire crowd was handled between seven o'clock in the morning and ten o'clock in the evening.

But what we do wish to do, is to call the attention of the merchants and business men of Bellefonte to the new field of patronage opened up to and for them, if they only avail themselves of the opportunity in time. Of the 939 people that came to Bellefonte on Saturday about 600 of them were persons who probably never were in Bellefonte, and certainly never come here to do any buying or trading. Of course, it is true probably, that they did little buying on Saturday, but that was not their object. But would it not be a good move to foster this trade; to advertise for it; to do everything possible to induce these people to come to Bellefonte and do their buying. Bellefonte business men could afford to offer such inducements as would practically place our markets at their very homes. But now is the time to do it. There must be no delay. Lock Haven and Williamsport are planning for this very trade. A contract has already been let for the building of an electric railway from Mill Hall to Lock Haven and this will make direct communication with that city. Williamsport merchants are offering great inducements to the people of Nittany valley to come to that city and do their buying. But what is Bellefonte doing? Practically and absolutely nothing. A large and rich valley, thickly populated, has been opened up to us and communication made to our very doors, and yet the business men of Bellefonte have not even taken the trouble to advertise among them; to tell them who they are, what they are, where they are, what they have to sell and what prices they can offer. None of this has been done, let alone the offer of any special inducement to come here and buy. Now would it not be advisable, nay businesslike, to get down to work, something substantial, and let these people know that they can deal here to as good advantage, if not better, than they can elsewhere? Secure this patronage before it is too late by some other place stepping in and carrying off the plum.

MCKINLEY'S SERMONS.

Rev. R. A. McKinley, D. D., Pastor of the Presbyterian church of Clearfield, occupied the pulpit of the Presbyterian church of theis place, Sunday in the absence of Dr. Laurie, who was occupying Dr. McKinley's pulpit.

Dr. McKinley is an able and forceful speaker. His morning sermon was on the text I Corinthian, 3rd chapter, and 11th verse. "For other foundations can no man lay that is laid, which is Jesus Christ"; and his evening sermon on the text found in Mark, 5th chapter and 36th verse. "Be not afraid, and believe."

Both sermons were highly instructive and earnest, and greatly pleased the large Congregation assembled. Rev. McKinley has preached in this place several times before, and always meets with a hearty welcome.

BURNED TO DEATH.

Three children lost their lives in a fire at Hastings, Cambria county, on Friday night.

Ernest Lavolle and wife, French people, who live in the suburbs, went to visit a neighbor about 8 o'clock in the evening. Prior to their leaving the house, all the doors in which they locked, they put to bed their three children, aged 8, 6 and 4 years, respectively. On their way home, they discovered their house was on fire and by the time they reached the building it was too late to save even the children. After the dwelling had been consumed, the charred trunks of the children were found, burned to a crisp.

The supposition is that the lamp, which was left burning, exploded and set the house afire.

RENOVO'S BALL CLUB.

The Revovo base ball club has organized for the season of 1894. R. N. Roberts is the manager: George Walsh is secretary and treasurer, and T. Poorman is captain. The players are: M. Cody, catcher; Wm. Day, pitcher; J. Roach, pitcher; Thomas Poorman, short stop; P. Cassidy, first base; P. McCarthy, second base; M. Freil, third base; Geo. Walsh, Samuel Moran and James Stout, fielders.

The News says the club has not yet decided whether to go into the movement for the resuscitation of the River league or not. They are considering a plan for the organization of a league to comprise up river clubs in Cameron, Elk and adjoining counties. The club had a successful season in 1893, and the report read last evening showed that $800 was realized over all expenses.

Miss Minnie Schelling, of Altoona, is visiting her friend, Mrs. Taylor, in Snow Shoe.

Mrs. Goss, wife of Ex-treasurer Cyrus Goss, of Altoona, is visiting friends in this county.

Mrs. William Zellers, of this place, is visiting Miss Annie Zellers, in Lock Haven.

Messrs. Harry Pletcher and Lot Thompson, of Howard, transacted business in Bellefonte on Thursday.

Hon. John A. Woodward and Mr. Alfred Bechdel, of Howard, were Bellefonte visitors on Monday.

R. M. Magee, Esq., Ex-Gov. Forrest, after a brief stay in Bellefonte, departed Friday evening for the Monte in the Quaker City.

Miss Ada Haupt left Thursday for Bellefonte, where she will join her brother Samuel Haupt and family, and they will take advantage of the sleighing from that point to Lewisburg.—Tyrone Herald.

Mr. John Curtin, who will be 84 years old this fall, is the oldest resident born in this borough. He was born in the Valentine residence on High St., which was held the first court of Centre county.

Mr. Charles Levi, of this place, on Monday received a telegram conveying the intelligence that his father was very ill at his home in New York City. Mr. Levi departed this morning for that place.

Miss Sallie Cochran, formerly of this place and at one time an employee in this office, was married on the 14th of February to Mr. James S. Hower, of Ephrata. For the past year or more Miss Sallie has made her home in Lancaster.

Mr. W. T. Hillibish is now the oldest member of the town council. We do not mean in years, but in service, he now soon to enter on his ninth year. Mr. Hillibish's father was president of the town council for many years during his time.

On Friday we noticed "Doc." Underwood, who for the past year or so has filled the responsible position of operator at the P. R. R. station at Clearfield, in town. Some time ago "Doc," with some few others, was laid off for a time and he is now at his home here waiting for better times.

Mr. Wilson Way, one of Halfmoon township's best farmers, was in Bellefonte on Friday and favored this office with a brief call. Mr. Way contemplates making sale of his farm stock and implements on or about the 30th of March. He does this because he intends moving from Halfmoon to State College, so as to be near that institution to enable him to send his son to College.

Mr. George T. Bush departed Saturday morning on the 10.28 train west for Louisville, Ky., where he goes as a state delegate to the national convention League of American Wheelmen, which will be held in that place Monday and Tuesday of next week. In Pennsylvania there are 4500 league members and out of this number there are only eleven delegates, so that Bellefonte has again been unusually fortunate in securing a representation.

THAT ENTERTAINMENT.

Various announcements have been made of a musical entertainment soon to be given in the Presbyterian church of this place, the proceeds to be devoted to the liquidation of the debt which hangs like a pall over that edifice and congregation. The entertainment, which is being gotten up by Mrs. J. A. Aiken, ably assisted by Judge A. O. Furst, will be held on Friday evening, March 9th. It will consist of vocal and instrumental music, and will be rendered by the best talent in Bellefonte and specialists from Philadelphia and various other inland cities. Among those who will be here can be mentioned Mr. White, of Philadelphia, and Miss Derr of Lewisburg. Special arrangements have been made with both the Central Railroad Company and with the Bellefonte Central company for the running of special trains from Bellefonte to the end of their lines after the entertainment, so that parties can come here from State College, Lock Haven and all intermediate stations, enjoy the concert and return after it is over.

TUESDAY'S ELECTION.

Centre County Gives Grow a Majority. Gray Elected Burgess in Bellefonte.

Tuesday's election was a veritable landslide in Centre county for Congressman-at-Large, Galusha A. Grow. At this writing returns from thirty precincts give Grow a majority of 48, with twenty-one precincts yet to hear from. It is safe to say that the Republican majority on the state ticket will be in the neighborhood of 500. In the local elections, there are gains for the republicans in the election of some of the township officers, even in strong democratic precincts.

IN BELLEFONTE BOROUGH

But in Bellefonte borough is where the battle waged fiercest and the heaviest vote was polled. Local politicians of both parties were around from daybreak until the polls closed and the interest exhibited and work done was never excelled even in the hottest contest. The democrats centered their entire strength on the election of Lane and Taylor, and waged a most aggressive battle. The republicans were equally vigerous in combating the fight and succeeded in holding the borough for every office with the exception of tax collector, to which Hugh Taylor was elected. Notwithstanding the severity of the political fight, everything passed off all right otherwise. The official returns from the Borough and wards are as follows:
